TO THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1959

Now that you are graduated from high school all eyes are turned in your direction. Will you further prepare yourself for one of the many vocations that are offered to you through further training, or has your formal education ended? To you who plan to further your education, may I say to you that you are living in one of the most opportune times since the dawn of civilization. Everyone in his respective field is begging for those who have properly prepared themselves. You can be just what you want to be, but it will take a lot of hard work. To you who have completed your formal education, we hope that you have better prepared yourselves to meet the needs through our efforts. We hope the tools, as limited as they be, do not rust but will ever have a luster from a constant use at your command.

Best of luck in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Steve Klasna

CLASS HISTORY

The class of '59, destined to produce the space men of the atomic age, began its ascent into the unknown realm of space called school, in 1946.

The travelers on our first "stage" of the educational system were; Carol Albers, Joan Fenicle, Ray Buffum, Sam Grillo, Clyde Turner, Al Kline, Susan Orr, and Ronnie Straub. Navigator for the first stage of our journey was Mrs. Rosenberger.

No new travelers joined us during our second "stage." Our journey was guided by Mrs. Wanker.

In our third "stage" we found two new names on the list of passengers; Georgia Seitz, whose effervescent spirit has guided us through many storms, and Jim Groves, a very bashful but lively individual, who has done his best to help us find our goal. Our third "stage" navigator was Miss Pearl Ford.

Our fourth "stage" was at a standstill until the promising young, future scientist, Frank Bouman, joined our ranks of exploration. Through the guidance of Mrs. Belle Schneider we completed our fourth "stage" with no major mishaps.

During our fifth "stage" our new navigator, Mr. Norley, joined us with discipline and goals fit for such a crew. His ideas included books and erasers (on the head) among other things.

During our sixth "stage" guided by Miss Long we detoured to include a new realm of exploration - social life (including square dancing).

Without our seventh "stage" navigator, Mr. McCleary, we could never have prepared ourselves for the most difficulty part of our journey - high school.

Our eighth "stage" of the journey was one of confusion and bedlam. This was during the construction of the new school!

In our ninth "stage" Mrs. Mary Myres became a permanent member of the crew.

In our tenth "stage" we gained nothing but mileage and memories.

In the eleventh "stage" we gained our last passenger, Mary Behrbaum, from Littleton, Colorado. Welcome from the happy travelers.

We are now completing the twelfth "stage." Our ship is filled with all its passengers and crew and now we are ready to blast off into the final exploration of space. There will be danger and beauty, success and failure for all of us. Wish us luck.

PROPHECY

It's the year 1969 and in Idaho Springs, Colorado, a small town in the Rocky Mountains untouched by the bustle of atomic cars and rocket bases, the class of '59 is holding a class reunion.

First to arrive is Carol Albers, a courtesy patrolwoman. The nation's first!

Next comes Al Kline. Al is a very successful football coach in Timbuktoo. His family consist of little halfbacks and cheerleaders.

Here's Susan Orr coming in now. Susan is the present governor of Wyoming but somehow she, her rancher husband, and their eight children found time to be here.

Even Ray Buffum has made it all the way from Afganistan. Ray is a 5-star general in the Army and we're quite proud of him.

Well, here comes Georgia Seitz. She is still waiting for Jerry to get out of the Navy but he keeps re-enlisting. Hmm? The couple plan to make their home in Downeville.

Sam Grillo isn't here. No one has seen him since graduation but there are rumors he's joined the Foreign Legion.

Joan Fenicle is here somewhere. She's the new president of the W. C. T. U. Oh, there she is guarding the punch bowl.

Frank Bouman sends his regrets that he cannot be here but he is on an inter-planetary tour selling his new book, "100 Ways to Extinguish the Human Race."

Mary Behrbaum just walked in. She has taken over Mr. Kloeckner's position as football coach. Congratulations, Mary.

Jim Groves, now known as Ricky Pelson, has just been escorted in. Jim is quite famous now, how could Hollywood spare him?

Clyde Turner has finally arrived, cigar and all. He is the notorious head of the National Racing Syndicate.

Ronnie Straub just walked in late as usual. Ron is a world famous accountant, hauling in money by the basketsful. Hey, Ron, how about a ride in your new mink lined convertible?
