Hey, you! Get out those sunglasses! This year, you're going to need em! Otherwise you will be Blinded By the Light!

C.K.N.

BLINDED BY

Different people bound together through the growing years have led each other through many dark tunnels through fame, misfortune, good and bad. Bursting out into the open, we are mischeivous and happy. Glowing with the colors of curiosity. Placed upon our heads is the crown of knowledge. Suddenly we are blinded by the light.

"FINALLY!" The class of "88" has at last made it to their final year. Becoming seniors shows a sense of dedication and achievement. This senior class accomplished many things, one of the most significant being the way they remained close as a class for their entire six years at CC. The seniors looked forward to many special occasions, such as the Senior Prom and Graduation. Their motivation and strength were not based on individuals but the entire class as a whole. Getting to the top was a group effort, and now that they've achieved it, any senior can be heard saying that single word—"finally!"

Senior Wills

Each year Seniors have the opportunity to leave something special or a part of them behind for others to enjoy. The content of these wills reveal serious and humorous sides of each individual. Written below are the Senior wills for 1988!!!

Nichole Adams . . . The Junior class- all the fun of being a Senior and doing all you can to cause trouble your Senior year!!!

Velda Bielz . . . Becky- Randy Travis, Heather-"Party Naked" and Loveland, Mr. Warmack- all the tests I failed . . . twice!

Larissa Bills . . . Mr.Klieforth and the staff of I.S.S.-My confiscated Mickey Mouse ears as I am sure they will find use for them. My loss of them will surely make up for the error of my ways.

Bethany Brown . . . Beth- #11. Jeff Thompson- all "good but rotten" essays. Class of 93' & Aaron McEuen- my sister, Erin. My parents-"THANKS!!!" Booney- all our petty disagreements. My brothers- all our memories. Billie Jean Bruce . . . The Juniors-Warmack and parties, Swandiver & Floyd Freak-happy partytime, My Parents-"Thanks!", Halberg-"Class".

David Cahill . . . The keys to the A-Team bus to Josh Anthony and to Matt and Brian, Bill and I leave a case of brew.

Angie Cagle . . . Erin, Mindy, Dawn and Shaman- Everything they desire as Seniors and the RX-7-if it starts.

Beth Cannady . . . Andy-The memories of Lissy Drew, Scotty-a longer pair of shorts, Bethany-Cinderella City, Jason-Oct. 16th, Heather I.-football team, Toddles- Lea's dog. Marshall Conway . . . Mr. Bryant-a hair piece, Mr. Dallas-all of the Eric Hoffman's in the world.

Lori Erwin . . . To the Class of 1988 I leave love, laughter and happiness; may we all succeed in the future. To my friends I leave all the memories.

Cindy Etherington . . . All Juniors- Gov't books, to burn, tear, & mutilate (at your own risk), All potential Hunks-the school, Mental Insane Institute- Ronda & Elizabeth.

Bill Fiveash . . . Matt, Brian and Mr. Darrell- a twelve-pack, Mr. Hallberg and Mr. Warmack- a can of flourescent orange paint.

Erika Forster . . . Aimee-"Dinker", Scott D.- 6th hour during marching band!, Bethany-my lingerie, Beth-a butcher knife to carry out your wildest dream, Mr Merrit-Band!!

George Foundos . . . Mr. Darrell-a bar of soap to clean his dirty mouth. Mr. Dallas- my eight years of English and the English Department. Jared Fresquez . . . Clear Creek Secondary School- I LEAVE!!!

Melissa Ganster . . . Mr. Dallas- Kyle ,Noel and I leave a quarter, My brothers-all my love and my Con. Ed papers, Sophmores-my car and accident record.

Kim's all JAZZED up and has no place to go.

No Matter where you are or what you're doing at C.C.S.S. you'll find a junior. 80% of the class of '89 is involved in extra-curricular activities with many excelling in the different ones. This doesn't slow them down from making career choices and earning money for Prom. The class was proud of winning of the powder puff game. Taking a wide range of courses hasn't stopped the class from remaining close. Juniors' days are numbered but they plan to make sure that they're not easily forgotten, nor will others forget this class of '89.

"Do you want some candy little girl?" seems to be what Dawn is saying to Erin. We can only wonder what she is really saying.

The class of 1990 is patiently awaiting its turn to become seniors. They have become closer as a class because they are starting to realize what being a class means. It means working together and sharing the good and the bad. They are slowly merging their light - hearted manner with the strength of maturity. They begin to grow faster as they become more self-assured.

This years Special Education class was taught by Mr. Nicols. Danette Barrentine, Becky Herman, Kevin Wing, Kathi Thurlow and Greg Stanley made up the special ed. class. These students participated in many activities such as swimming, cooking and vocational preparation (similiar to job training). They had a course in integration into regular ed classes. A special olympics program gave all of them a chance to be winners. The agenda for the rest of the year included a ski program, along with ski meets, and swimming meets. A trip to the Air Force Academy for a track and field meet was also scheduled. Mr. Nicols may develop a peer relationship group for the special ed students. The special ed program was quite a success thanks to the staff and a positive group of students.

Welcome to the wonderful world of numbers! Here we have Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Spletzer, Mr. Gould, Mr. Klaes, and Mr. Dreith. The math classes that were open for students to take were Basic Math, Math Analysis, Advanced Math, Algebra I, Algebra II, Basic Geometry and Geometry. These teachers were the ones teaching the students the wonders of mathematics. They stressed using facts to figure out problems logically. Students this year had to deal with the usual- equations, numbers, and objects.

Top: "Do you guys think I need to see a plastic surgeon?"

Left: "I told you I didn't know how to ski!"

Bottom: Who said this class was alot of fun?

THE SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The science department has achieved much progress this year. Besides learning, students had fun.

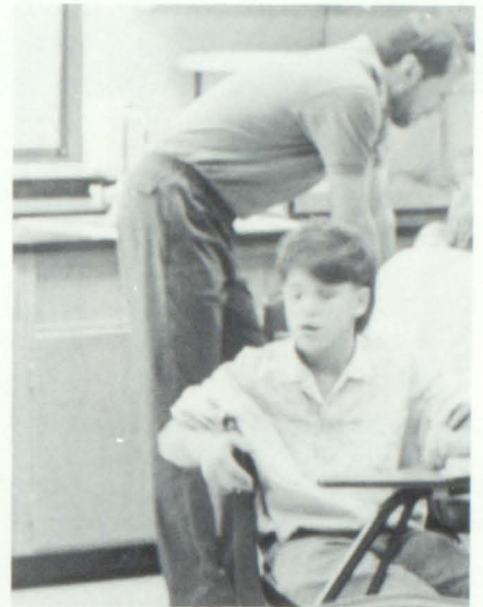

This year the science teachers are Mr. Darrell who teaches Earth Science, Mr. Gould who teaches Physics, Mr. Dreith who teaches Astronomy, Mr. Hallberg who teaches Chemistry and Physical Science, Mr. Resonovich who teaches Life Science and Biology, Mr. Weiss who teaches Geology, and Mr. Fredell who teaches Biology, Biology II, and Earth Science.

Mr. Fredell has planned many activities. One of these activities was a spring break trip to San Diego. Many science students were looking forward to the trip. Mr. Fredell has also changed his Advanced Biology class to Biology II which has become a popular class.

The science department has made big achievements this year and has something to be proud of.

"I never have anyone make fun of me behind my back!"

Can you guess which kid just had a happy meal?

"Now why did I take this class?"

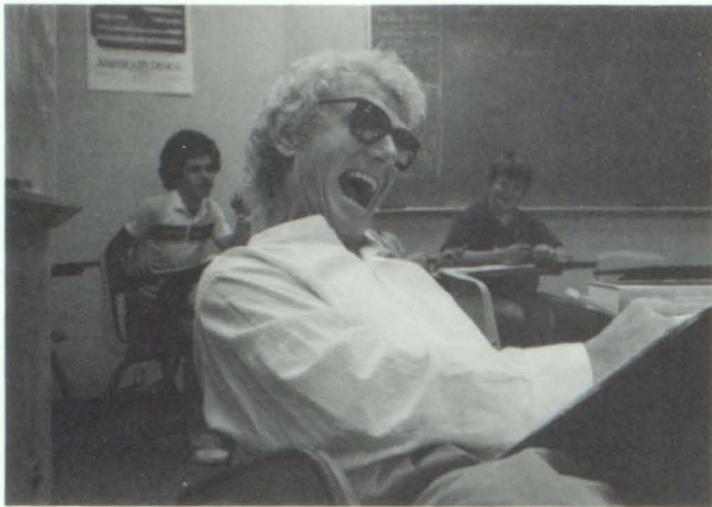

"What's that?"

The intelligent looks of a science class.

"Ha, ha, ha - another one fails!"

"Mr. Dallas, I know I turned it in!"

ENGLISH

Left: Laid back and college bound.

Because English is our written and spoken language, English is required each year at CC. This year the English department included Mr. Dallas, Mr. Holicky, Mrs. Kruger, Mrs. Brown, Ms. Joseph, Ms. Schley, and Mrs. Helseth. These teachers emphasized the skills needed to communicate the English language in an educated manner. Spelling. Grammar. Writing. Vocabulary. Literature. These were the topics that students encountered each day in their English classes. Some teachers, such as Mr. Dallas, stressed the importance of English as a college preparatory class. A student should be able to express himself clearly in his speaking and writing, and teachers tried to get this point across.

Students scramble to finish their English assignments

Mr. Holicky pretends to be a student!

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

HISTORY

If you like adventure and things in the past interest you then turn to the social studies department. Your adventure begins with Mr. Dickenson. He teaches the basics of history and geography. Next you arrive in either Mr. Byrne's or Mr. Dickenson's eighth grade social studies class. Your visit to the past continues to Mr. Byrne's Western Civ. class. You finish out your trip with U.S. History taught by Mr. Warmack.

When you are not studying the past you study how our government works. Mrs. Naylor teaches general aspects of the government in her Civics class. Finally Mr. Warmack takes you into more depth on his favorite subject . . . American Government.

Social Studies class can be blinding.

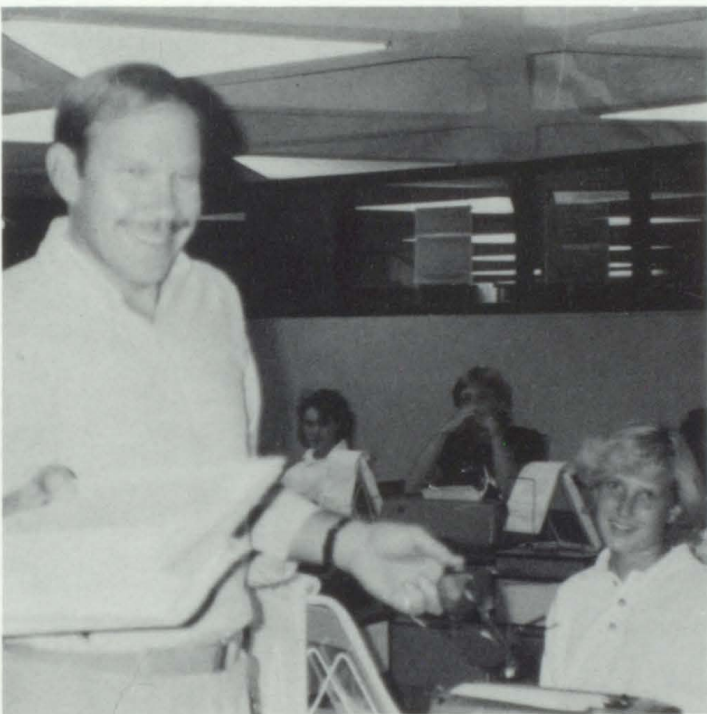

Warmack wonders why he is a teacher.

Kyle Kucin attempts to teach Mr. Martin's Con. Ed. class.

Mike and Josh read an interesting note while Jenny shares her homework.

Mr. Martin takes a break from Con. Ed. to teach a typing class.

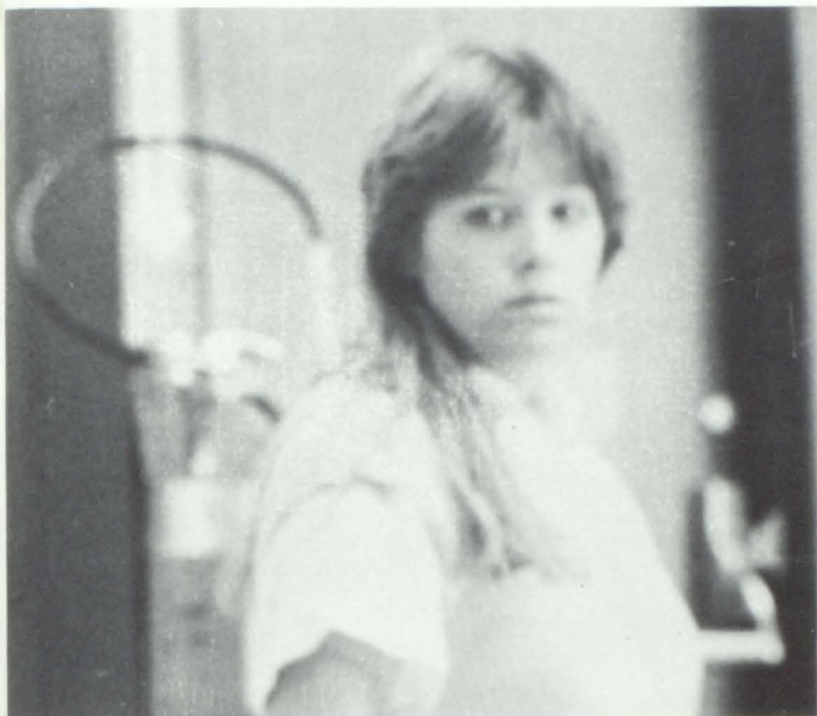

Everyone works busily to keep on the "teachers'" good side.

Business classes help students with skills they might need in the future. These skills include working with office equipment, such as typewriters and adding machines, and making wise decisions in purchasing items. The classes prepare students for the future and to be successful in its surroundings.

BUSINESS

HOME-EC/ART

SHOP

"Now where did I leave my project?"

Shop is a fun class enjoyed by many students. Shop consists of woods, metals, mechanics and mechanical drawing.

Wood shop teaches students the aspects of working with wood. Wood shop is taught by Mr. Cyphers and Mr. Potter.

Metal shop is taught by Mr. Horner. Metal shop teaches students to use metals to make different objects.

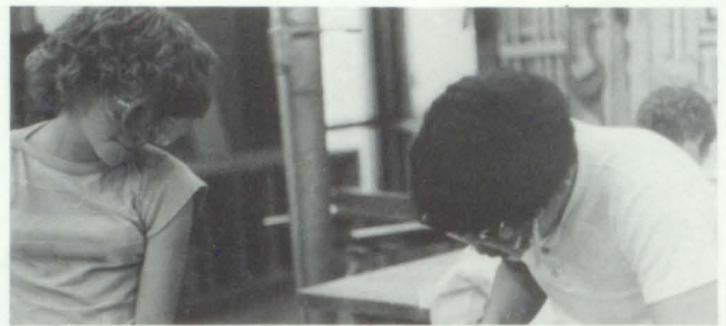

Mechanics prepares students for a future in mechanical training and jobs. Taught by Mr. Cyphers it is a popular class.

Mechanical drawing is a popular class for the upper classmen. Mr. Horner teaches students to draw technically and design plans for building, etc . . .

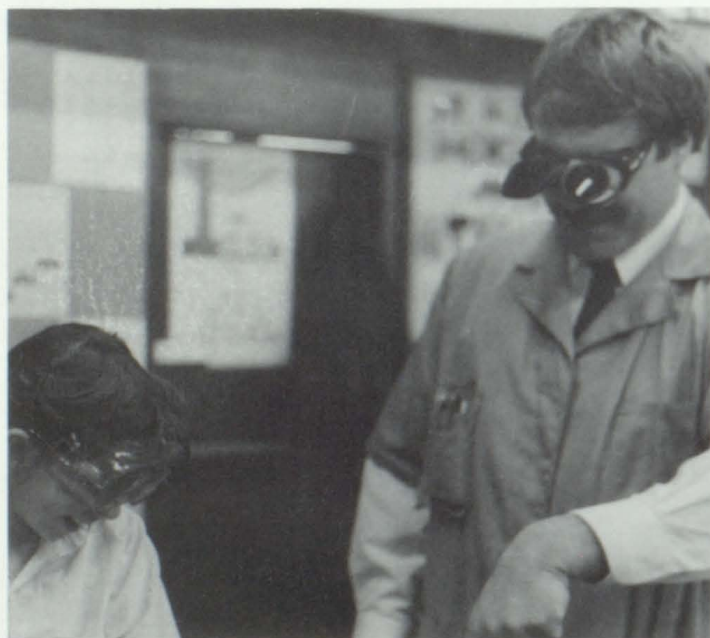

Shop gives students a chance to relax and learn important skills in building, designing, etc . . .

"Oh, he does it so well."

"Wait a minute, what am I doing here?"

"Is that really what it is?"

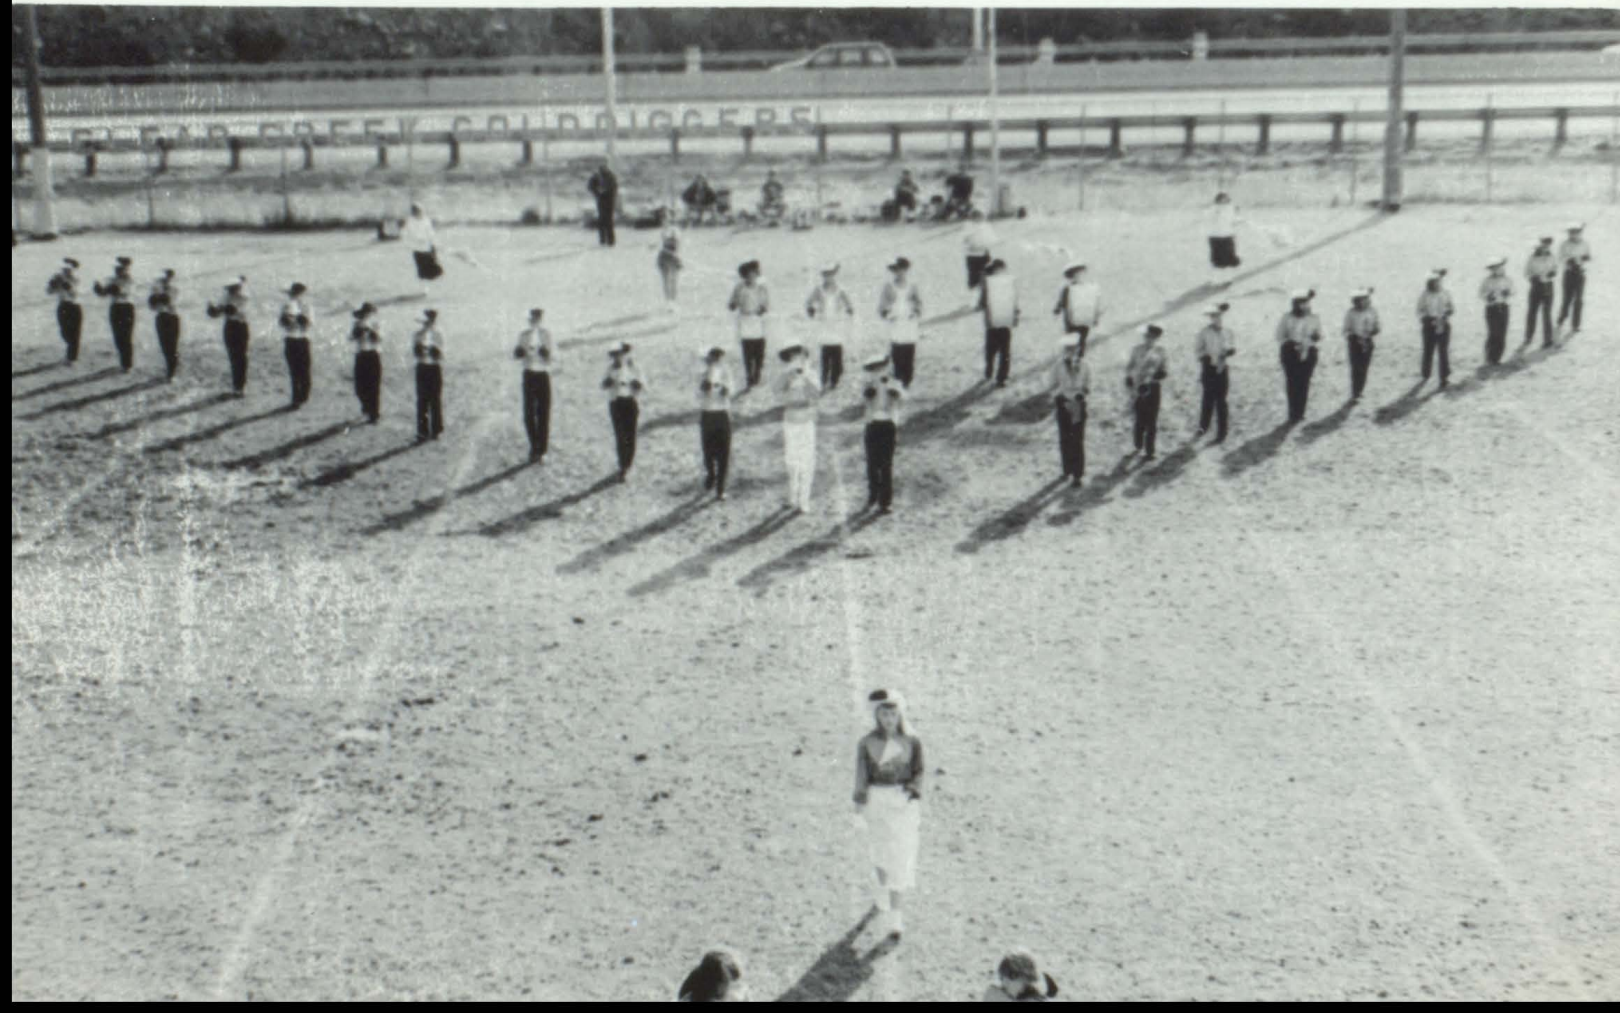

"After I'm done it'll be awesome!"

WARREN TECH

Warren Tech students are those of us who have decided to take advantage of their interests. Students taking courses at Red Rocks must be unusually motivated to keep up with their classes. Many people do not realize that Warren Tech is a privilege and not a series of blow off classes such as shop. Students who attend Warren Tech are devoted and work hard at their interesting hobbies.

Hush Day was a new idea used this year. It was very successful and many students want it to be a part of homecoming in years to come. The annual parade where floats are displayed to the community. This year the Freshman Class won. The girls once again showed their talent on the football field in the Powder Puff game. The Junior/Freshman team beat the Senior/Sophomore team. The GOLDDIGGERS were victorious over the Huskies in the varsity game with a score of 21 to 6.

Homecoming - 1987

Class Representatives

Homecoming is a time of the year when students can show pride, support athletes, and boost the morale within the school. It is also one of the most memorable times of the year. Classes pull together during this week to build floats and participate in class competitions.

This years Royalty was announced at an assembly. They were officially coronated at the beginning of the varsity football game. The Royalty for 1987:

KING-DAVID TERRY
QUEEN-LISA SCOTT
SENIOR ATTENDENTS-JEFF SCHUESSLER & BECKY SCHEURER
SENIOR ATTENDENTS-MATT LEIGHTON & THERESA HUDSON
JUNIOR ATTENDENTS-JOEL FRESQUEZ & KATIE DALPES
SOPHMORE ATTENDENTS-GABE SHRADER & CARRIE TILLEY
FRESHMAN ATTENDENTS-ANDREW PHILLIPS & BRANDY CARY

Like every year there was a parade, a powder puff game, as well as the varsity football game. This year the winning float belonged to the Freshman Class. The Junior/Freshman team won the powder puff game. Later that night the varsity took on Platte Canyon. The Diggers made their fans very proud by being victorious over the Huskies with a score of 21 to 6.

"Well fine you go first!"

Many changes have happened in the Senate since last year. The most noticeable changes were that meetings were held during school, alternating class periods every two weeks and increased number of members. The Senate also went through a lot of reorganizing including having 6 standing committees and sending a few members to the summer and fall State Council Conferences that were held in Ft. Collins. This reorganization will continue throughout '88 as many more changes and improvements are made. With more members the Senate has become stronger and more influential. A few of their activities were Homecoming, concessions, projects with Senior Citizens such as monthly luncheons and activities solely for the Senate and its members.

Below-Jeff, Laura, Kelly and Genny as they stopped to take a picture at the end of the summer State Student Council Conference held at CSU. During their week long stay they attended several workshops that dealt with such things as leadership, problem solving, Homecoming, fundraisers and many other things that cover the different aspects of student government. Also before Homecoming, CCSS sent members to the fall conference, which was a condensed version of the summer one but it gave the three freshman ideas that will help themselves and the Senate now and later on in the involvement in the Senate.

Each February new members are selected for National Honor Society. The requirements include a full semester attendance at C.C.S.S., a 3.25 or better G.P.A. and be at least a Sophomore. When a student actually becomes a member he or she must demonstrate leadership, show courtesy and inspire positive behavior in others as well as being an achiever in the classroom.

It is the highest honor of the school to be a part of N.H.S. All of these students are great achievers and will have successful lives. Many warm wishes go out to all past and future N.H.S. members for future accomplishments.

FHA, The Future Homemakers of America, have done many things this year and have achieved much. Jane Klein sponsors FHA this year. Some achievements that FHA have made this year is their Regional Conference where students went to workshops and learned different skills. Their District Conference was held at the Broadmore in Colorado Springs this year. Students enjoyed this very much and learned things that were helpful. FHA has also done small things such as selling cakes for Christmas and Valentines Day. FHA has also contributed to helping younger children in cooking workshops. FHA has done much this year. CCSS wishes them all the luck in future years!

-----CROSS COUNTRY-----

Varsity

Jody Erwin-This was his first year and he kept up with all the other varsity runners who had been running for several years. His best times was 19:26 at Winsor.

Scott Gould-Throughout the season, he held the lead position for C.C.. He placed first in the Chief Mountain and by doing this he is the only Digger to have won this race in its three year history. He also placed first in the dual meet at Kent. He ended the season with his best time by finishing in 17:59 at Windsor.

John Gumina-A freshman and new to running, he was surprised how well he fit into the team and his running speed. With 20:14 he finished with his best at Windsor.

Peter Hocevar-After several years of running, Peter finally earned his varsity letter. He was the most improved male during his first year on Varsity improving from 20:31 to 20:19.

Scott Leonard-He had to start out this year running with a cast on his broken arm but once it was taken off he was able to start training hard. This payed off as when he finished at Winsor with a time of 19:33

Boys' Junior Varsity

David Briddle-As a Junior, David had a great challenge; that was balancing two activities by running and starring in Charley's Aunt. He was able to get a J.V. letter by running in the J.V. division at the league meet. The best score for "Brasset" was 24:20 at Washington Park.

Trip Coffin-He started the season off slow but was able to end it as second runner of the J.V. team. This was a pretty good accomplishment for a first year runner. He finished the season with a best of 23:27.

Kirk Hobbs-He was a lead runner for the J.V.'s team. Not only did he run at Kent with a cast on his arm, but he finished the race with his best time of 22:11. It won't be much longer until he'll be a Varsity runner.

Scott Lancaster-After much prodding from others, he was able to earn his letter. His season was interrupted by a cold but he finished the season with a best of 24:34 at the Liberty Bell Invitational.

Kip Merry-Knowing how hard it is to be a runner and how strenuous training is, he pushed himself through the season and ended it with a time of 24:10 at the league meet held at Kent.

Girls' Varsity

Kim Erickson-Being this year's most valuable and lead runner for the girls, she played a key part in the team. She went through the season improving at each race and ending at Windsor with her best time of 22:22.

Genny Hale-Racing in several races during the summer, she improved remarkable. Starting the fall off on the right foot by running the 5k in under 25 minutes, she was bound to have a good season. Her cold didn't slow her down from getting her best time of 23:16.

Elizabeth Howell-Playing the vital 4th member on the Varsity team, she worked hard to contribute to the team and improved herself as a runner. Her hard work also earned her quite an honor, the most improved girl, going from 32:51 to 26:44.

Katie Stiff-She also ran during the summer and it improved her racing too. She was able to finish at all of the meets and ended the season with her best of 24:17 at the district meet.

This year's cheerleaders worked hard to make cheerleading a true sport at the school by spending many hours practicing cheers, dance routines, pyramids, and partner stunts that they performed at different athletic events. The varsity started the season off by attending a four day camp at D.U.. They learned a lot and like the J.V., who attended another day long clinic, they learned new cheers and dances they could use throughout the year. The season's highlight was cheering before 75,000 fans at a Bronco game which they played against the Vikings at Mile High Stadium. Also they were priveleged to cheer during half-time of the Denver Nuggets vs. Sacramento Kings game. They also showed their school spirit by planning pep assemblies, performing routines, making signs and being involved in Homecoming activities. They also initiated a tradition of having a winter Homecoming and dance. In the fall Homecoming they made a Gus mask that encouraged crowd participation.

Our wrestling team ended their season with a pretty hot record. The team seemed to settle for nothing less this year were; Curt Lenardson, Zak Peterson, Scott Morris, Mike Morris, Shane Smith, Tony Allen, and Eric Langstaff. Mike Robinson, Joel Fresquez, and Shannon Campbell were valuable team members as well. Coach Weiss, and Coach Potter said that many wrestlers this year had a good chance to go to state. They needed a District title to pull Clear Creek out of a hole.

This year's wrestlers showed a lot of potential. We would like to congratulate the four members that went to state.

The 8th graders are getting through their final year in middle school. Next year they will face new adventures when they start high school. They worry about up coming classes, teachers and just fitting in, but like every class they will be achievers. While still in middle school, they are making the best of it! Their participation in both middle school and high school affairs has immensely increased school spirit. The school expects great things from you all! GOOD LUCK!!!!

Just when the seventh graders thought they were on top, they are back on the bottom of the ladder. They have to start all over again, only this time they are a few years older. The Sevies, as they are traditionally known as, seemed to have fun this year. They didn't seem to be scared about coming to "THE HIGH SCHOOL". Some of that might have been due to the orientation they had before school started.

Some things the Sevies really liked were being able to have a choice for lunch and they that were able to participate in many activities. A couple of things they didn't like were the older kids "bossing" them around and being called sevies. But that is what all Sevies have had to put up with.

The M.S. Cheerleaders have had an exciting year and have enjoyed cheering at the Duster Games.

The cheerleading squad began the season by marching in the Gold Rush Days Parade. They also helped sponsor the cheerleader booth.

In August, the squad members had the opportunity to attend a 1 day cheerleading clinic taught by a universal cheerleading instructor. They learned new cheers, sideline chants, and a new dance routine.

One of the biggest highlights of the year was cheering at the Denver Broncos-Minnesota vikings football game. Cheering before 75,000 fans was an excitement in itself. These cheerleaders also cheered at the Denver Nuggets-Sacramento Kings basketball game.

This cheerleading squad has shown commitment and dedication throughout the year. They represent the Middle School and are looking forward to supporting the Digger teams next year as Freshmans.

"Hey! What are you doing tonight? Wanna go to a party?"

"I'd love to! But . . . I have to work."

Sound familiar? It's Saturday night and you're stuck working in a busy restaurant, a crowded supermarket, or a gas station filled with grouchy travelers. Despite what most grown-ups may think, many teenagers find that to have fun, they too have to work. That's what these students are doing. And after work? That's when the fun starts! Getting that paycheck at the end of the week makes it all worth it! Besides, on Monday when all your friends are bumming money off of one another, you can feel that lump of cash in your pocket and you smile to yourself . . . losing that weekend night keeps YOU out of debt!!!
