The class of 1990 remembers Fernie Gurbindo.

We are separated, but he is not forgotten...

Tomorrow is another day
And the day after that.
You only live so many days;
Use them wisely.
Be with those you love,
Spend no time with those you scorn.
Live your life fully.
Do as much as you can with the time you have.
Be wise with your time.
With this it may seem
You live forever.

Steve Ator

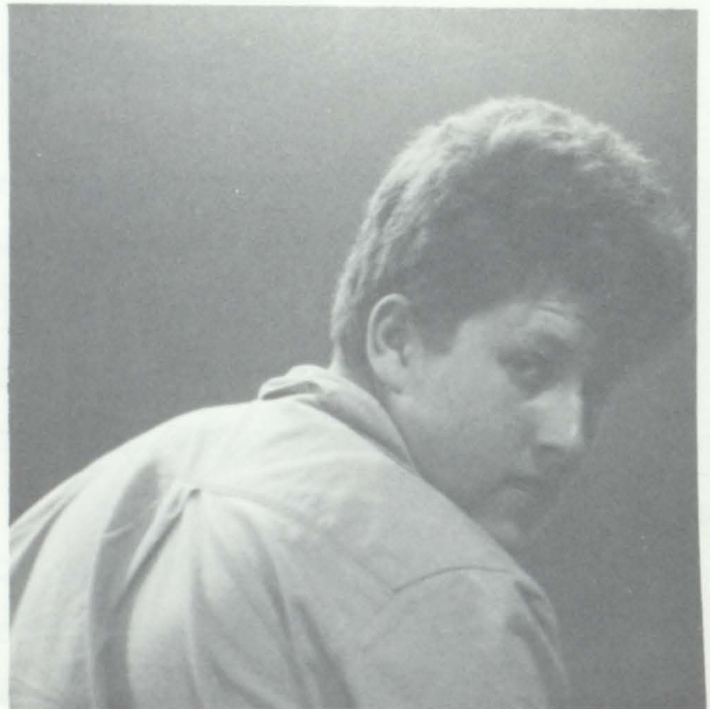

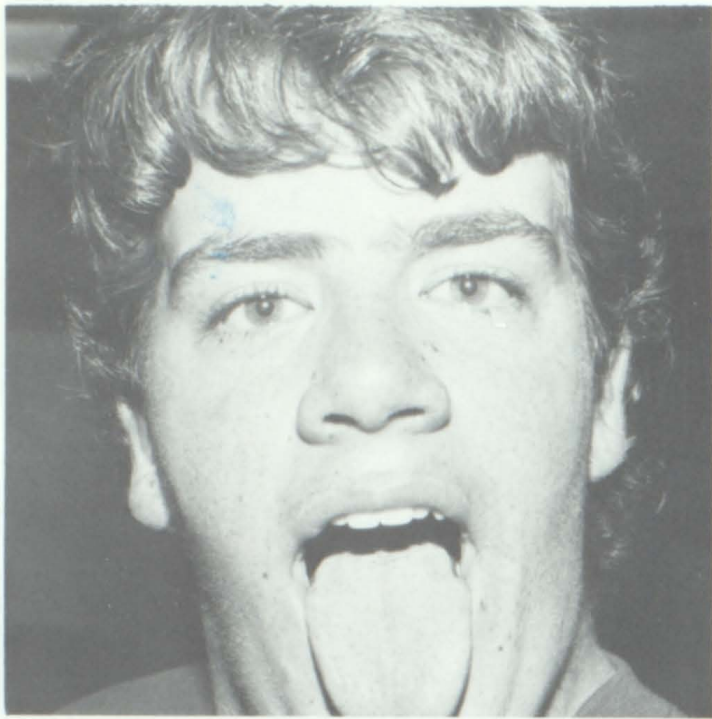

On Our Way

There's more to us than meets the eye. We're starting to understand:
It's what we think and how we feel that makes us what we are.

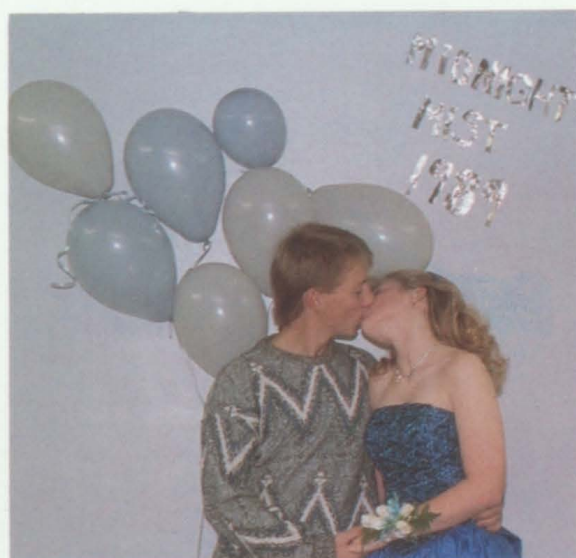

Why do we do the things we do and say the things we say?
What is important, and how do we know? We're learning more each day.

We learn from friends and family, from work, from school, from play.
We've also learned to take the time to sit and think things through.

The more we learn, the more we grow, and then the more we see,
Just how much more we want to know and who we are learning to be!!!

As they approached the end of their high school career, the Juniors learned to accept more responsibility. One aspect of this would be their plans for the future. The Class of 1991 started to plan ahead by taking the PSAT. Also, the class has come together to work on Prom, which is one of their major responsibilities of the year. All in all, the Class of 1991 has fulfilled their obligations as Juniors and are awaiting the days until they become SENIORS.

These sophomores have been great. They used their school spirit a number of times during the year. Homecoming was messy, with yarn, beads, paper, all through the gym hall. Ruining their fun, Unselde attacked it with her scissors. Five years ago, CCSS knew they were coming, now THEY ARE HERE, SO LOOK OUT!

They made a creative float and decorated the pit with balloons and trash for Homecoming. It seems the freshmen class of 1989-90 is loaded with ideas and creative people. Go to it FRESHMEN!

Great! English is over- I hate that class! Now it's off to Biology. I think I hate that class more than I hate English. No... wait a second, I hate English more than anything else I have.

Get a load of that outfit that Jane is wearing. That is the ugliest thing I have ever seen her wear yet.

"Hi Jane, love your outfit! I was gonna buy one just like it" Geez, I'm such a liar! I can't believe she actually believed me! HA! Oh no, There's Jesse. What do you wanna bet she complains about Joe and her other problems? Maybe I can dodge her... Too late, she saw me,

"Hey Jess! What's up?..

He did huh?"

How'd I guess?

Oh great, there's the bell.

Homecoming

Week

Homecoming is a special time for high schoolers. It's a time of pranks, silliness, and togetherness. As every year begins, everyone starts to prepare for Homecoming. It is a time to prove Clear Creek's teams. Seniors started pranks with a "neat toilet paper job". Juniors followed by a few stolen signs here, a dash of toilet paper there, and a whole lot of soap. The girl's volleyball lost against Sheridan for their homecoming game. It was a very close game and the Lady Diggers worked hard. For the Diggers, homecoming was a heart stopping football game. The guys played against Machebeuf. The end result? A 7-6 loss for the Diggers. Despite the losses suffered in each game, the Diggers danced the night away that Saturday night.

style of 1990

EVERYBODY waits for the weekends to do what ever they do. Longing throughout 5 days, that seem to last 2 weeks. For what? just to get away from school for 2 days, then to go back. Some of us take the executive weekend, faking sick for a friday and a monday off. But then even those 4 days out of school seem shorter than the 3 spent in class. The pattern seems to never end. Don't worry there's another weekend coming up!

Jazz Band and All That Jazz!!

In the early light of dawn, Jazz Band Members creep to fourth floor to do their daily rehearsal. Rubbing the sleep from their eyes, they slowly put together and tune their instruments to the slow steady beat of the drums. As the numbers increase to the full 23 members director Bob Wagner starts the group out on a song. With all the sleep gone from their eyes, they play one of their favorites- Firestar. Raptly listening outside are the dwellers of fourth floor and other wanderers of the school. With the song finished, the members put away their instruments to face another day of school.

With all the work and struggling behind them, they face the night of a concert. In the choir room they talk and pace rapidly to get rid of nerves. They are excited and can't wait to show their audience what they can do. The concert begins with another favorite- Big Noise From Winnetka. With the mood set they blow their audience away leaving them begging for more. Their unbelievable energy continues the following Saturday at the Thorton Jazz Festival. They work together to awe the judges. They come away from the festival with an Outstanding Band Award honoring Totter Todd with a Musicianship award. Striving for perfection over the next months they travel to Greely with a better swing feeling, tonguing and techniques. The cycle continues until the end of the year. During the next months, everybody waits to start again next year...

The Fall Play was set in a spooky old mansion...

The audience enjoyed seeing the characters disappear, reappear, two people drop dead on stage and one even came back to life! Who did it? Why the butler of course, but we didn't know that! This zany cast of characters finally outsmarted the murderer and squashed him, but not before strange hands poisoned the sherry and mysterious eyes watched all this silliness unfold. A good time was had by all and the audience left with a smile!

Eyes to the Skies

Within the far reaches of Clear Creek County, a group of students gather together at the Lawson Observatory to see the stars above. Using a Celestron telescope, they observe galaxies far far away, seek out new life and see if it is possible to boldly go where no man has gone before. They never stop trying to discover the secrets of The Universe. After learning with Einstein, Hawking, and Newton they are dragged back to Earth to learn about more mundane matters.

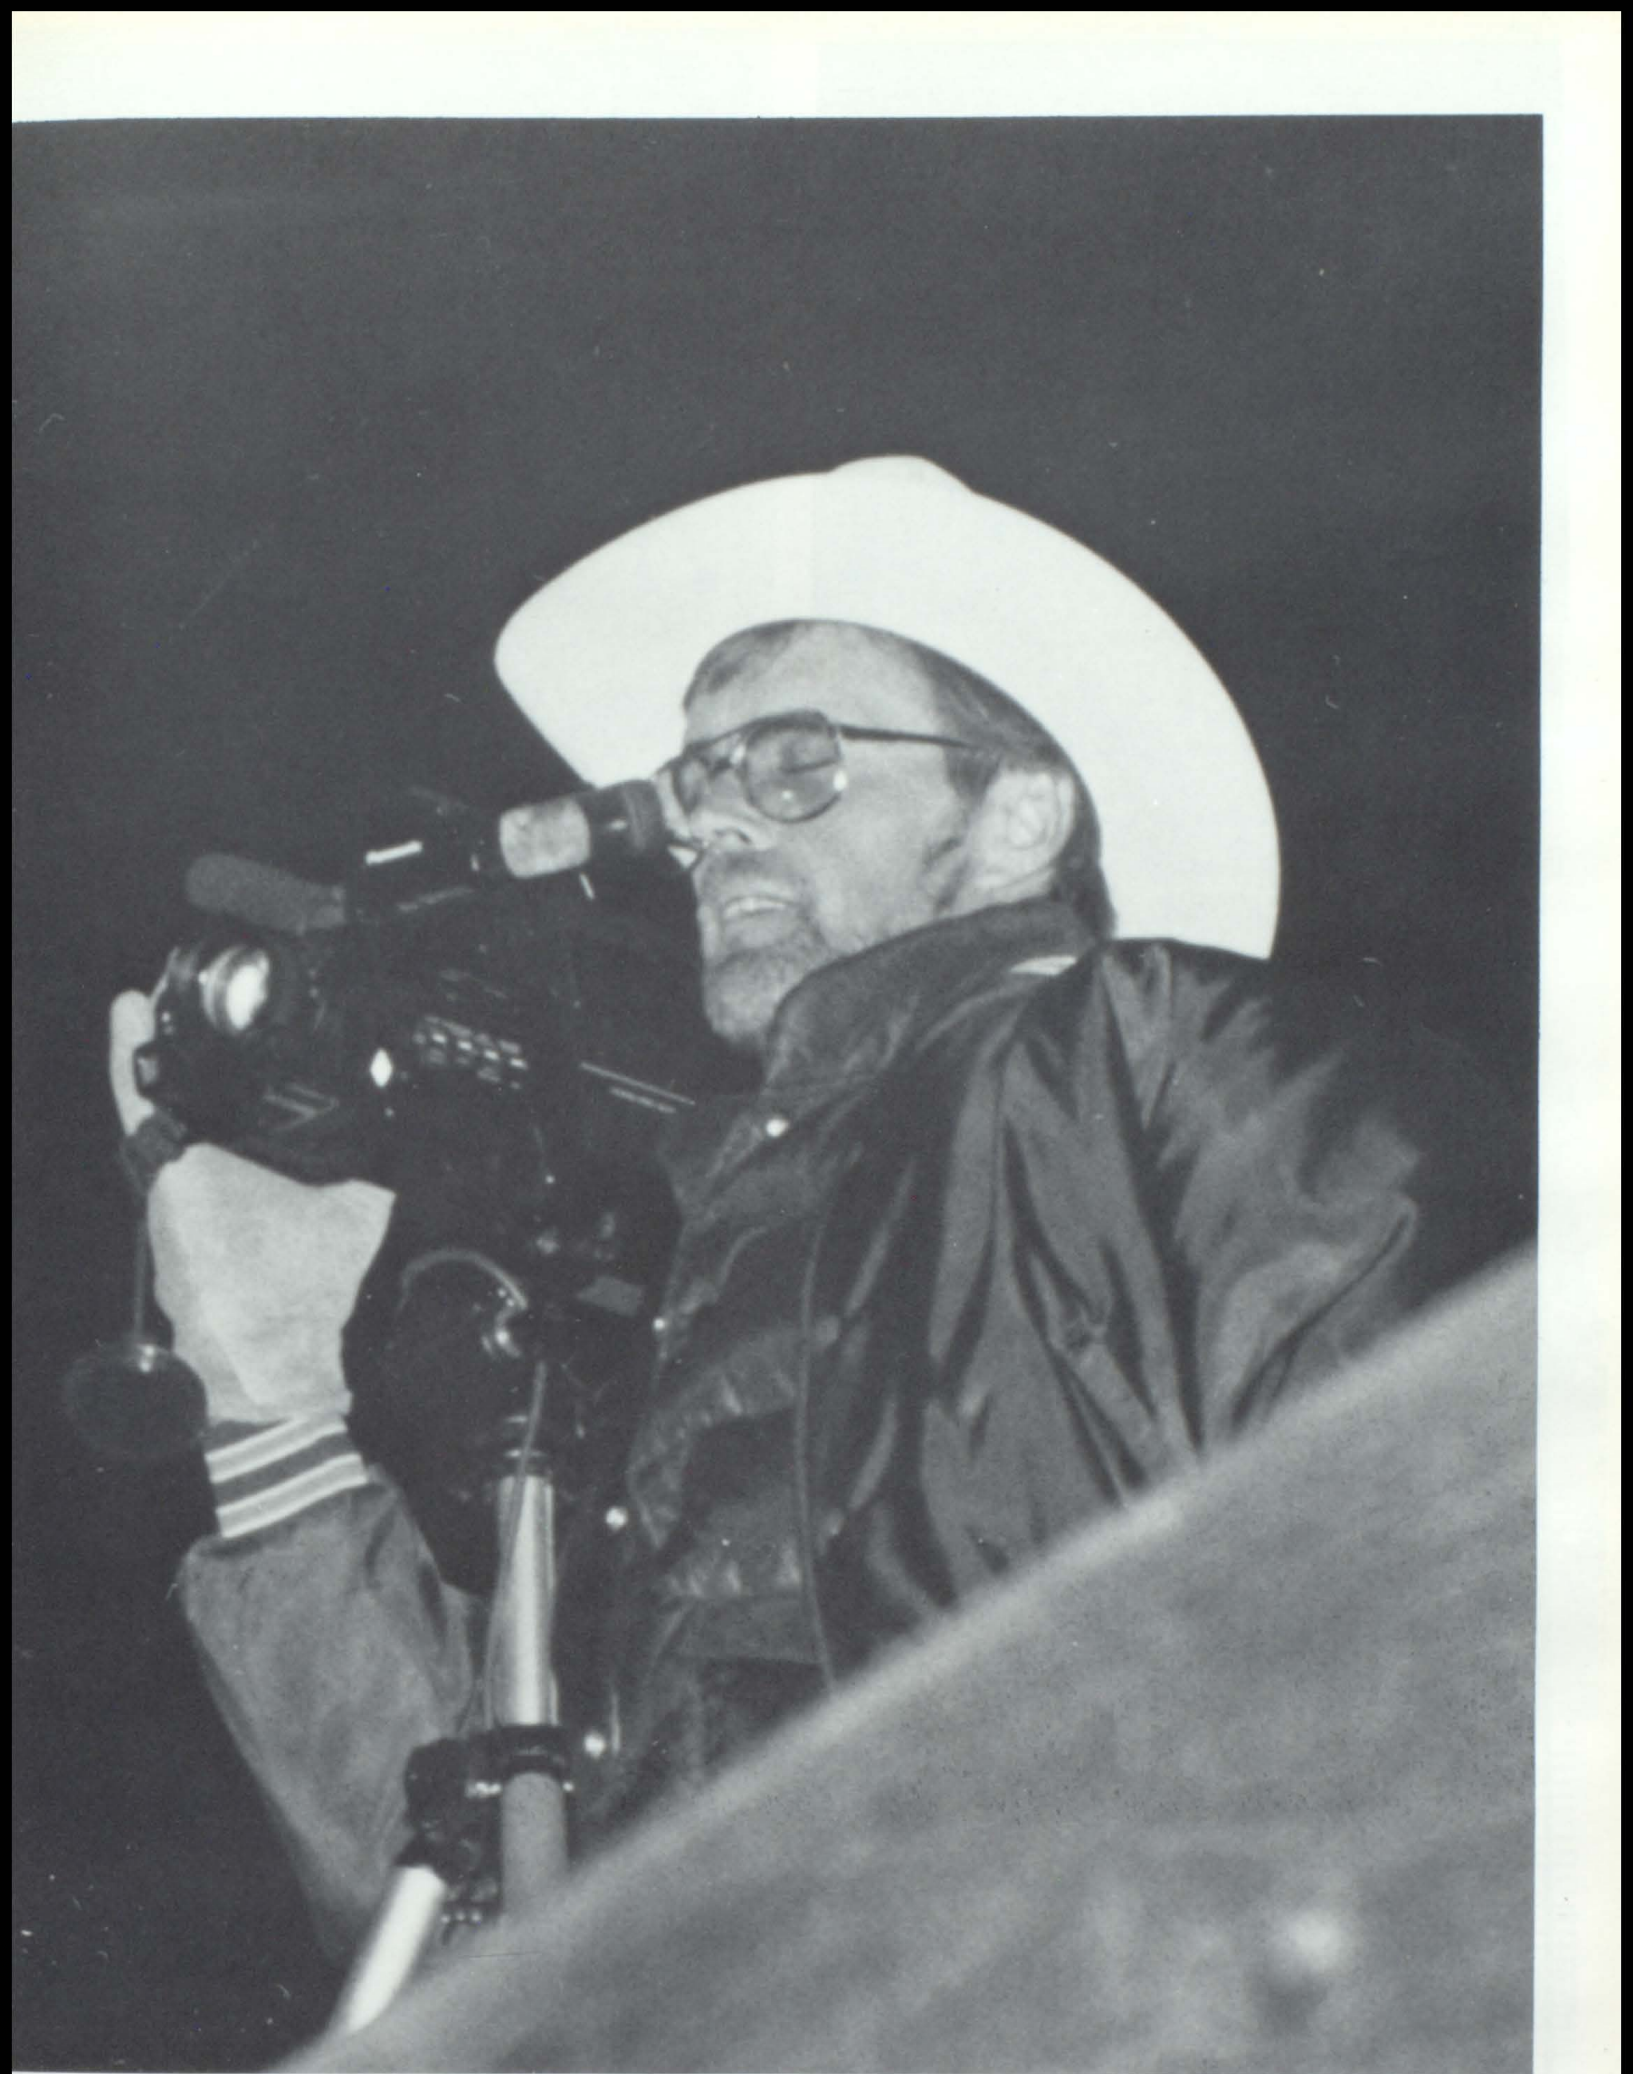

Astronomy Club is an outgoing group that just started this year after the cancellation of the Astronomy class. They started out by knowing five stars and five constellations around the night sky. In depth discussions on black holes followed as well as investigations the speed of light and the history of astronomy. They finished the year with a trip to a planetarium and with their heads to the stars.

Model United Nations Club hasn't been around very long. This is only it's third year at CCHS. It was started by teacher Wendy Naylor. Students represent different countries and debate resolutions about universal problems. Then they attended M.U.N. at Cherry Creek High School, DU, and USC. Foreign exchange student Daniel Klingler won an award for being an outstanding delegate at USC. If this club works hard, CCHS hopes to be able to sponsor its own M.U.N. someday.

The Volleyball teams went into the season with a lot of spirit and determination. There was a lot of team effort, which made the girls a closer team than in the past. Each girl gave all she had in order to have a winning season. Although the girls stayed even in their record, the girls spirit was quite high. Senior members left their season with pride knowing the younger girls will keep their spirit alive.

BASKETBALL

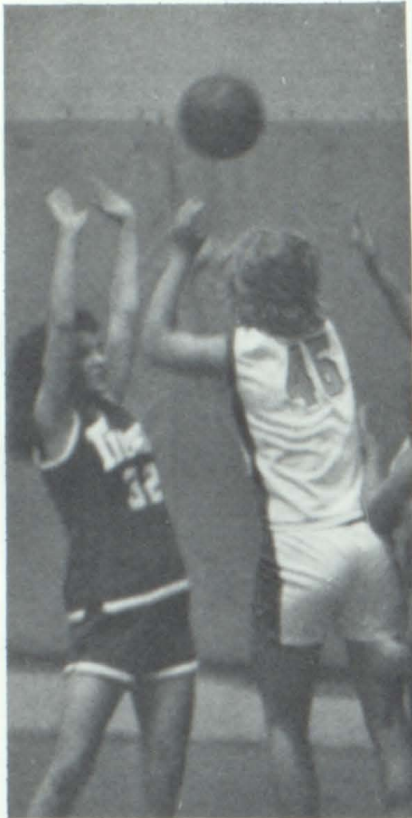

Varsity and JV

The boys basketball team had a very impressive record this year. The boys came back from last years losing season and went 10-8 . The team had five outstanding senior players; David "Moose" Close, Shawn "Goose" Gilley, Gabe "Shot Master" Shrader, Jason "BankShot" Painter and Tim "Tower" Healy. Great coaching by head coach Mr. Bennett and asst. coach David Scheussler helped the team win some close games against Kent Denver and Middle Park. The team had two junior starters, Bill "AIR" Miller and Andy "Right Hand" Phillips, who both had awesome seasons. Two other Varsity players, Tony Mott and Keith Maynard, will play as a big part on next years Varsity team.

GIRLS

BASKETBALL

When I just signed up for basketball, I was scared. I couldn't play very well and I heard a lot of bad rumors about Coach Wormack. After the season started, I found out that most of the rumors were true, but not all of them. ^Even though our season wasn't perfect. I think we are all winners. We had fun playing the game, win or lose. I hope that a lot of girls join basketball next year.

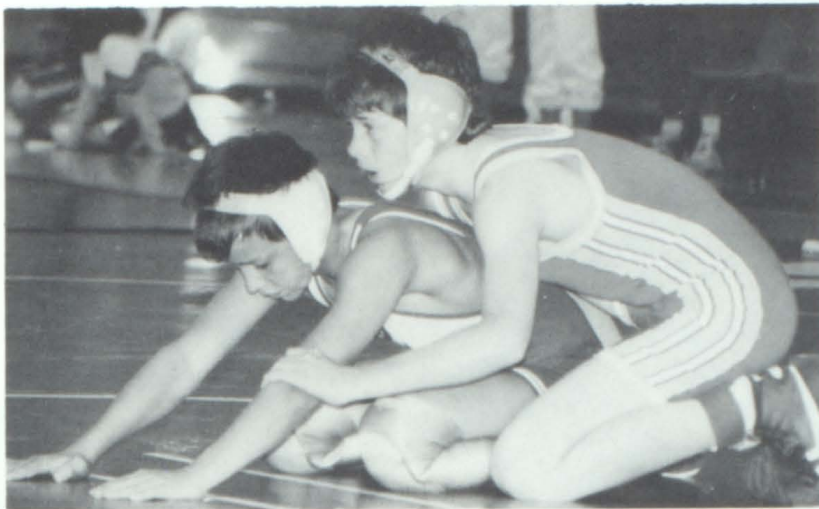

Cross Country

The cross country team had a year of pure dedication and true teamwork. This year was made possible by the expert coaching of Jan Howell and newcomer Bill Wycoff. These 2 coaches made it possible for the team to actually work together as a team. As this idea caught on, the results of the group improved.

Cross Country Team Members: Amy Cameron, Maria Dickerson, Andrea Fink, Christine Robbins, Heather Gilbert, Genny Hale, Anouk Mathon, Rachael Sandhei, Abby Heller, Amy Smith, Amy Youngblood

Twelve Clear Creek wrestlers compiled a dual meet record of 5-4. They competed in four regular season tournaments and placed fifth in the State Qualifying Metro League District Tournament. Mark Dalpes, Pat Morris and Chris Klipp distinguished themselves by qualifying for the annual AA Colorado State Wrestling Tournament held at McNichols Arena in Denver.

This was an exciting year for the cheerleaders. They started their off their year by attending a UCA Summer Cheerleading Camp. They competed against AAA, AA, AA, and A schools and won a Superior trophy for the best side line cheer. In winning this, they were invited to State Competition which they were to choreograph a dance and incorporate a cheer into 3 minutes minimum. It was a great experience for all. This season. The SENIORS will leave knowing they leave an AWESOME Varsity squad for next year.

Musical

ANYTHING GOES

"If bare limbs you like or Mae West you like, nobody will oppose, because Anything Goes." Imagine this: an Atlantic crossing with a load of tap dancing, singing and romancing passengers. The sailors are all handsome and strong, the girls are all beautiful and lithe. In a fast paced and funny story four couples get engaged, four people get arrested and everyone has a rollicking good time. Hope Harcourt (Lalana Harrison), is engaged to Sir Evelyn Oakleigh (Kevin Inman) and in love with Billy Crocker (Brad Florentin). Her mother, Mrs. Harcourt (Brenda Brown) wants to ensure that Hope marries Evelyn and gets her hands on his station and money. In the meantime Evelyn falls in love with Reno Sweeney (Leah Rowan) who is not good enough for him. In order to help out these disheartened couples Moon (Joel Johnson) enlists the help of his friend Bonnie (Ami Smith) to fix things. By the end of things the Chinamen (Bill Victor and Mark Dalpes) Billy's boss (Greg Fugate) the Purser (Brian Marcum) a Bishop (Jim Ruhoff) and several other passengers get involved in this escapade. A great time is had by all and the finale was nothing to be missed. "Anything Goes" was definitely the best musical yet!

Check This Out!!!

In 1948, CCSS, didn't exist. All the upper grade levels of school went to the school now known as Carlson Elementary. The graduating class of 1948 consisted of 21 people. They had one football team, a basketball team, a ski team, a Spanish club, a pep club, and 4 cheerleaders. They even had class parents; quite a difference to CCSS today.

In 1961, there was a sharp increase in the number of graduates; 41. They now had a chess club. Other than that, not much had changed since 1959.

Then we jump to 1967. There was still a small number of graduating seniors, only 48 all together. There was a great addition to clubs and sports though.

In 1979, there had been a sharp increase in available sports since previous years. They also had a yearbook staff that made their deadlines. Would we like to trade places with any of these classes?

No Way!!

In 1954, the graduating class numbered 22. They had some adjustments; another basketball team, band and chorus, Echo staff, Spanish club, and even two plays put on by the Junior class. There were even Homecoming events on October 21, 1953. Idaho Springs played Castle Rock and lost by 2 points. During that year, the school board decided that the school was unsafe and the students were moved to other quarters for awhile.

In 1959, the graduating class dropped to 13 in number. There was now a wrestling team. There was also a Library club, a projectionist club, a Latin club, and a G.A.A. (Girls Athletic Auxiliary??). Well life was becoming more civilized, but they still had 31 more years to go.

In 1974, around the time this crazy generation was born, people were set towards peace and freedom for the black people. They also tended to be set toward male chauvinism. They even had teachers Fraley, Bennett, Klieforth, Dickenson, Halberg, Resanovich, Gould and Weiss we have today, but many of these teachers did not teach the same subjects as they do today.

Try to Remember...

"Hey, who's the geek with the glasses?"

"Who? Oh, that's War---, no, that's Dri-- geez, I don't remember, give me that book."

When were these words muttered from the lips of a Clear Creek graduate? Probably some time in the future, be it near or far. The dust has just been blown away or wiped from the top edges of this book. You are looking at a book dated 1990 and wonder what hidden facts of the past lie beneath the cover. Perhaps you were a student at Clear Creek High School and have some clues locked away in your memory. They may be slightly unclear, but they are there. By chance you are the offspring of such a person and happened to curious of the events and photos describing 1990 and the days of a Golddigger that molded your parents. Maybe the date is later than that. You are the grand child or even a great-grandchild. It makes no difference, the memories or curiosity of such people have grown and the desire to remember or know about the past has tempted you. Within this time capsule are trivial facts combined with the events that shaped the world. One glance at the cover and a quick flip through the preservations on paper has enticed you to investigate further.

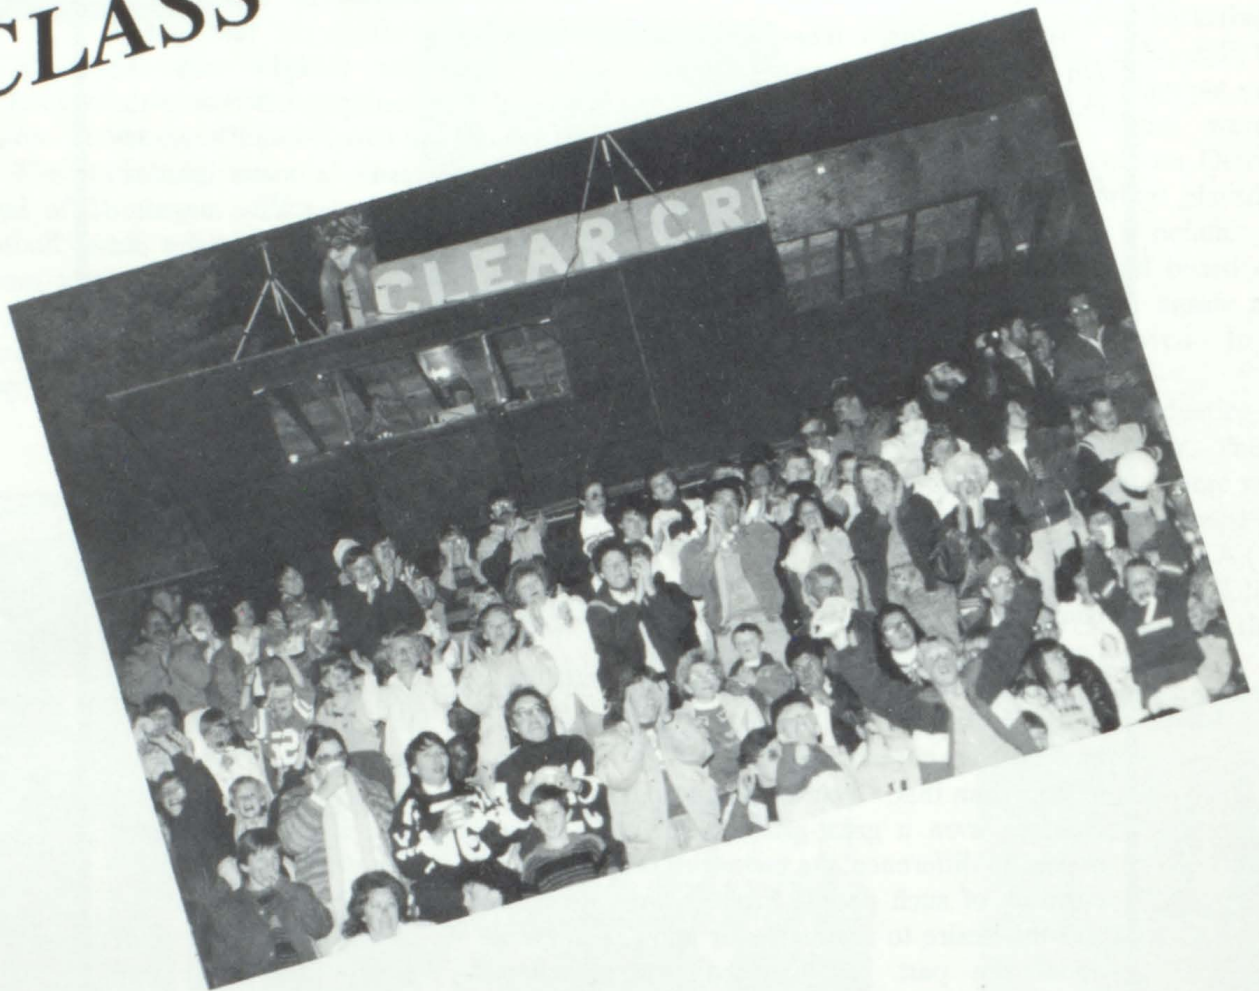

Though you remember them or knew they once took place, some mini-events at school will have undoubtedly been forgotten. These are also described or captured on photographs, within the text, but is there food for thought with the images? For example, what were the effects of "The Gate?" Did it serve it's purpose or result in more injuries? Did the asbestos scare have any after effects, or how many nasal hairs did the skunks destroy during classes in Warmack's trailer? With those in the past, we may now know.

We can also remember the people ranting and raving about the moving of lockers in the junior/senior pit, the musical "Anything Goes" and the play "But Why Bump Off Barnaby?" or the continuing saga of musical teachers.

Though these were all overshadowed by the fall of the Berlin Wall, the fall of communism in Eastern Europe, and closer to home, hurricanes, earthquakes, and flag-burning. The attempt to preserve these memories were all here. A look back in the past reveals life as we knew it. We were taken care of or sheltered. We now know the real world and only have this book and others like it to bring back the teen-years. So, when the dust is cleared, the cover is wiped, and the pages have been opened, look at it, close your eyes and remember: These may well have been some of the greatest of times. Cherish them, for we will not see them again.

Blizzard Of '90

On March 5, the terrible blizzard of '90 hit Clear Creek High with a boom. Forty inches of wet sticky snow plummeted from the skies, only to be hauled away by hundreds of snow shovels hefted by money seeking students (them or the ones that got blackmailed by their parents to do it).

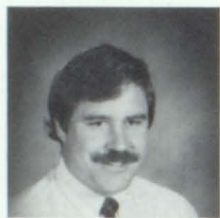

Three consecutive snow days were celebrated by many students, and were worrisome to others. The yearbook deadline down in publications went down the tubes because of the lack of students. During the afternoon and evening of the second day, the theater was full of the cast and crew of "Anything Goes," struggling to have the play ready by the next week for the big performance. After the play, two cast members finally finished the yearbook in the wee small hours of March 7. That same day, the gym was alive with the cracks of bats from the baseball team, trying to get those arms strong. Meanwhile, down at the Placer, a bunch of the coaches gathered to swap lies and wait out the storm.

Many people thought somebody was off his rocker down yonder in the bus barn. The last time we had a snow day was when Hallberg had hair; and then, out of the blue, snow fell and three days of school were called off. Didn't they know that people's social lives went down the drain? One a week for the next 200 years wouldn't be bad, but three in a row? How did the students react to all this? Two seniors, M.W. and D.C., were heard to say "Whatever... I DON'T CARE!!!"

YEAH!!!!

...of course we have spirit.

SPIRIT!!!

Hello!

My name is Anouk Mathon. My hometown is Neuchatel, Switzerland.

I came to the United States to improve my English and learn a different way of life.

I enjoy both downhill and cross-country skiing, running, and mountain biking. I love trying new things, meeting new people, travelling, and going out with friends.

At Clear Creek, I enjoy sports, because there are more opportunities to practice. In Switzerland, we don't have school teams, we just have private clubs.

When I first came to school the people were very friendly. I also like Clear Creek, because mountains are all around and it makes me remember of Switzerland. I chose Colorado because I wanted to be able to ski. Schools are very different in Switzerland; first we don't have the same classes every day and the relationships with the teachers are not the same; they are stricter in Switzerland. I think the teachers are kind of cool here.

So far my experience in the United States has been very memorable and I look forward to come back to the States to see my host family and my friends.

Foreign Exchange

Hi,

I'm Daniel Klinger. I am 18 years old and am an exchange student from West Germany. West Germany has about the size of the state of Wyoming, which isn't very big, but its population is over 60 million people.

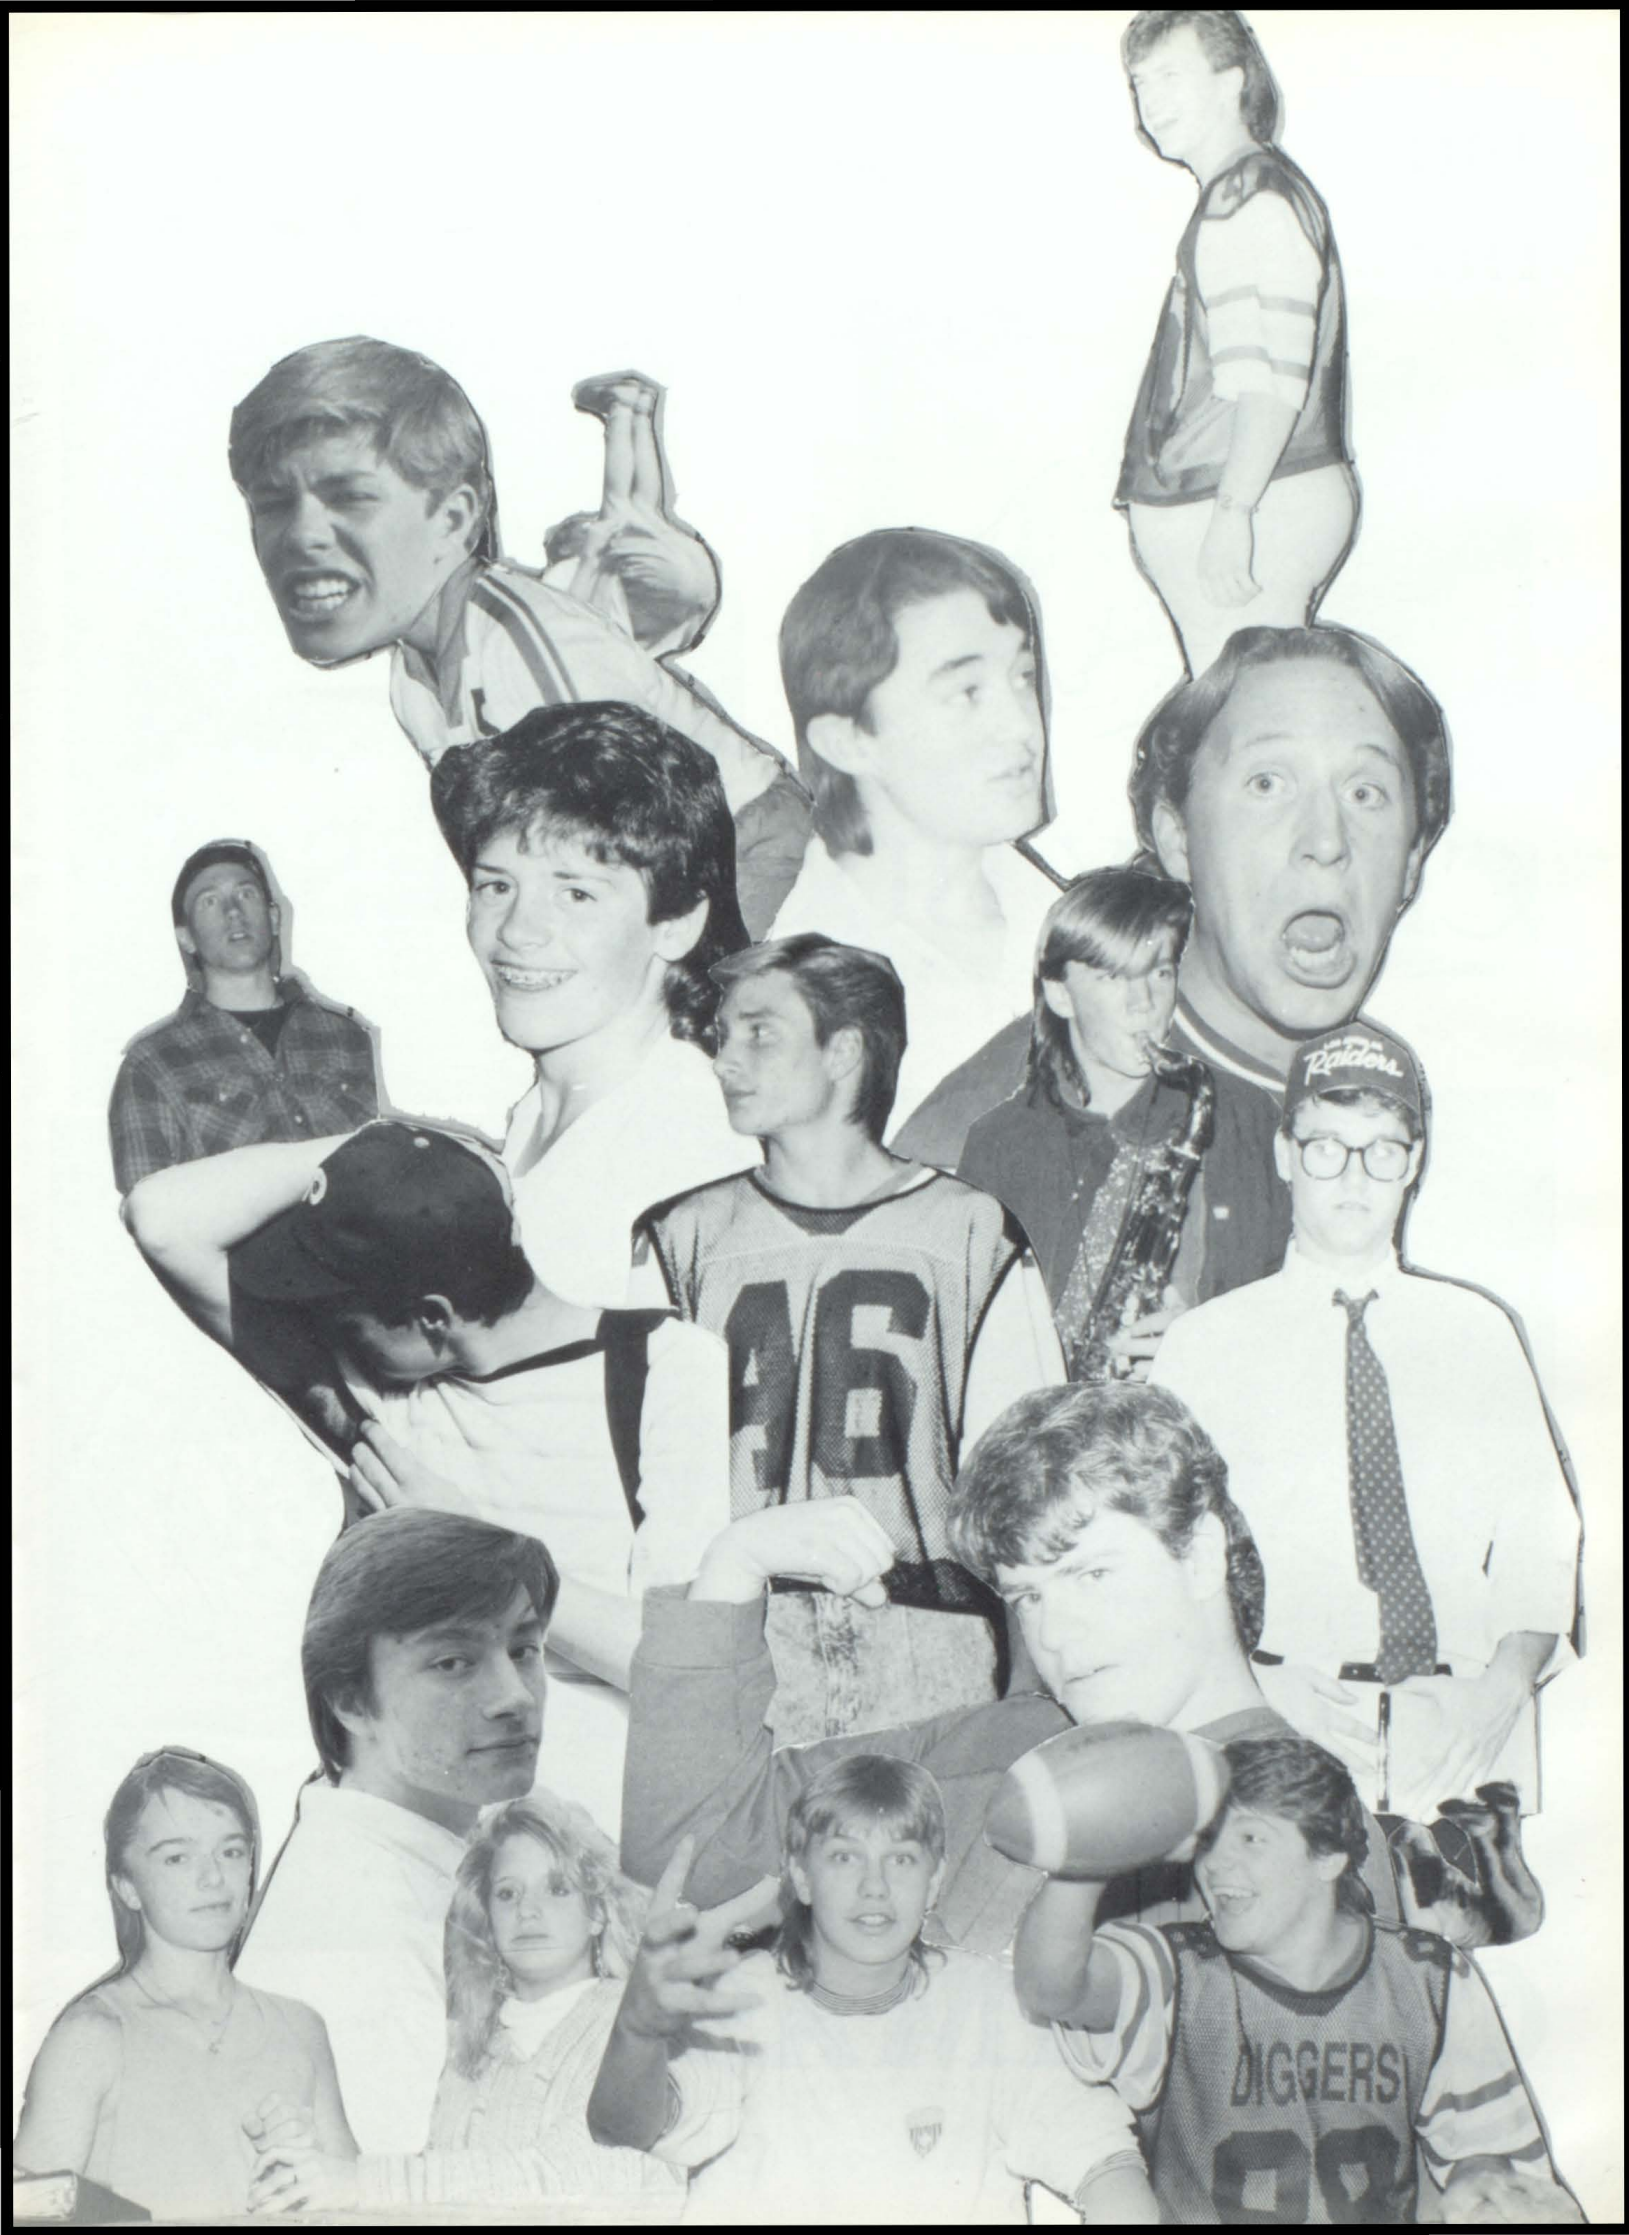

Like my brother Thilo (15), I was born in Stuttgart, the capital of the state of Baden-Wuerttemberg, in southern Germany. After my family lived in Stuttgart for about seven years, we moved three times. For about three years now, my parents, my brother and I live in Regen, a typical small Bavarian town of about 12,000 inhabitants. Regen is situated in the Bavarian Forest, which is in Southeastern Germany, along the Czechoslovakian border.

My school, the "Gymnasium" (13 year German Secondary School) is in a town 9 km. from Regen. I attended that school for two years and I'll still have to go there for two more years, when I'll be back in Germany. I'm not really looking forward to going to high school after this year here in the U.S. But I guess I'll have to.

After "Gymnasium" and a mandatory military service, I plan on going to university to study medicine. As well I'm thinking of coming back to the U.S. in a few years, because I really like it here. Maybe this is a good time to thank all my friends here at CCSS for the great time I'm having. I hope I'll be able to keep in touch with many of you even if I'll have to go back to Germany in June.

Dan

This book is dedicated to Mr. Richard Bryant...

..who contributed enormously to the spirit of CCHS. He insisted that everyone learn the school song. He introduced the theme "YA GOTTA WANNA" which is now painted in the gym. He will always be remembered for his Digger cheer.
