Dig a Little Deeper

Once upon a time a dreamer came to the mountains looking for a place to build his future. As he toiled over what to name his new home nestled between the mountains in a fairly secluded area, he found gold in the glimmering creek that ran through the valley. Suddenly a name hit him... Clear Creek, home of gold, and the diggers that come looking for it. Today at Clear Creek High School many changes have taken place, yet the idea of utopia that the dreamer brought with him to the mountains still remains a large part of modern day life. Throughout the year many contemporary advancements have been made such as teaching classes through L.E.T, paving the student parking lot, adding new computers to the library, extending the library hours, and even installing an art gallery in the commons to show off the many talents found in the student body and faculty. As the year progressed many students found themselves digging a little deeper within themselves to help keep the dream of the utopia alive.

If you think you are beaten, you are.
If you think you dare not, you don't.
If you like to win, but you think you can't
It's almost certain you won't.

If you think you'll lose, you're lost.
For out of the world we find,
Success begins with a fellow's will-
It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you are outclassed, you are.
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.

Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man.
But sooner or later the man who wins
Is the man who thinks he can.

Students spend their free time in many different ways, but during the school day they all follow the same routine. Trying to survive the passing periods and beat the bells, can make even the strongest students feel as if they've hit rock bottom. Ignoring the common belief that diversity will separate a school, the student body only seems to thrive on it. Whether students are environmentally aware, or concentrating on their social life, they seem to come together when it is important, to help each other last throughout the year.

Below: Shawn Palmer, A rad snowboarder, and Steve Alters, A session skater, show us whats up.

New school? Old school? Which one? Fads fade faster than skin art does. The body piercing trend was in this year, and different areas of the body were tuned in. Anything from tattoos, to skateboarding was not a crime down in the school parking lot. The skaters of the school drew attention by wearing the fatt clothes, going to punk rock shows, and dying their doos.

boarding, to hair dying were popular trends. Different piercing areas we saw were lips, eyebrows and bellybuttons. Maybe more? Maybe in places that might be censored. Most of the tattoos were colorful and creative, others not so great.

The Unexpected were not only cool and tolerable, but they were the ones that stood out the most, and were punk rock. ("Well, other than the "POSERS.")

Trends and fads are hard to keep up with but, if you're cool, you'll keep up.

Players hitting players, the football team struggles for the state finals.

Crunch

By Steve Files and Andrea Maxwell

Football is a sport that brings athletes to a place where everybody has to get along and learn to play and work as a team. It is a sport that students love to watch, because the team plays so well. The football team is not just a group of people knocking one another down, it's a lot more. Football teaches responsibility, the will to work hard and the heart to keep up.

The football team dominated in the start of the season, but fell short of making the playoffs, simply because they were short by one point in the polls.

Suffering the loss of Captain Josh Nelson and Jesse Tietz, the team still ended the season with a 6-4 record.

"Gosh Girls, Tight Enough?" This year the volleyball team had to wear spandex as their new team uniform. This was just one of the changes the team undertook during the season.

Starting off the year the team played well facing some difficult spots on the way. The volleyball team had high spirits and encouraged each other with a motivation to keep their spirit fired up. It was...

"1 we are the diggers... 2 a little bit louder... 3 I still can't hear you... 4 More, more, more."

Overall the season was outstanding. Everyone worked really hard and it was filled with lots of laughs and excitement. The Volleyball players said one important thing to remember is to have good team sportsmanship. "Sportsmanship is to always accept defeat," The team agreed.

Carrying the Tradition, Cross Country brought home another championship.

3-Peat

By: Ray Versailles

For 3 Years in a row the Girls Cross Country team brought home the State Championship to Clear Creek. The boys Cross Country team came home with an impressive season. Also a Cross Country meet was held in Georgetown called the Clear Creek Invitational. High Spirits and the adrenalin was pumping through the athlete's blood for their own Invitational. Led by Mark Buckland, the team worked hard for themselves and for their Coach Bill Wyckoff. They all had one thing on their minds, "State Champs." Leading runner for the Girls was Lynne Ifft and for the Boys was Mark Buckland. They led the charge until the season ended. Next year we all hope the girls will go for a 4-peat.

REBOUNDING For The Future

A new look, a new style and especially a whole new ball game.

By Sara Nelson and Andrea Maxwell

This year the boys' varsity basketball team under command of Coach Bennett had a very good year with 4 incredible wins and 8 disappointing losses after the first half of the year. Their goal was to finish in the top half of the league.

Andy King and Paul Sammons are the only seniors on the team this year and are also the leading scorers.

Chris Forristal is the leading rebounder and Ron Holten, Tyler Jackson, Ian Marlin and Scott Martinez have the best floor games on the varsity team.

The junior varsity team has a lot of small but quick players. They have all been working with the help of Coach Schuesler so they will have a strong varsity team next year.

Another year passed for the Digger Ski Team and despite all the difficulties, they have prevailed. Snow time and money are not something the Diggers are accustomed to. However, they managed to stay competitive with schools like Vail and Summit.

The Senior captains Josh Nelson and Mark Buckland helped provide leadership for the young team. There was a lot of "fresh blood" on the team and the future looks bright for the Diggers.

A number of boys and girls are moving up through the ranks and promise to be strong skiers. The ski team is also unique because it is the only team that competes in both cross country and down hill. Cross country at times was a source of conflict but, it can be good for building team spirit.

The cheer-leading squad not only dealt with new team members and a whole new look, it also dealt with having only one varsity squad to cheer at all the games. They struggled against the odds and came out leading the school in many favorite cheers.

Pride, dedication and a lot of hard work was put into the cheerleading squad so they could cheer at varsity games and some junior varsity and freshmen games.

The dedication of these girls and one guy was more than anyone would've expected. They were always ready to "Go, Go, Get'em, Get'em!"

The cheerleaders represented the school to the highest extent and took on the highest challenges giving spirit and voice to the student body and shoving the fact that the Goldiggers will always reign above the rest.

Every student can testify to the fact that high school is much more than friends, laughter, and good times. Although often easily forgotten, the main purpose of any teaching institution is the development of academic knowledge.

Classwork, homework, tests, tests, and more tests. But what a lot of us don't realize is that academics is much more than classes and report cards. It's administrators, staff members, teachers and their students. It's everything that makes the school work. It's all components of a system working together to produce the final product of knowledge.

Academics 45

Don't DREAD ME

Fear me SCIENCE,...THE MOST DREADED SUBJECT CARRIES ON THE TRADITION.

Mr. Darrell, Mr. Fredell, Mrs. Spletzer and Mr. Gould make up the science teaching team. Biology (living things and their relationship to the planet) is the most dreaded of the bunch. The collection of insects and the dissections are some of the big things in Biology I and II. Bugs, skulls, and animals fill Mr. Fredell's room, but the students are a variety.

Physics (the Mathematical study of physical universe) is another one of the sciences offered. Mr. Gould says "Our entire system is now based on scientific principle. We must have a good foundation in science in order to understand the world we live in." Science is very important to our lives in the future.

Mr. Darrell, the teacher of Current Science and Earth Science, has a full day of Freshmen and Sophmores. Earth Science is the actual study of the Earth where Freshmen learn the ways of the Earth. Current Science Sophmores learn the new ways of the future.

Chemistry was taught by Mrs. Spletzer. Chemistry is the study of interaction of atoms and molecules combined interrelated with Biology and Earth Science because all living systems are involved in Chemistry.

AND THAT IS SCIENCE.

Plus And Minus

The Last Mystery Math will be the answer to many problems that past generations haven't been able to solve yet.

Once upon a long time ago math did not exist as it is known today. People sat around in caves or straw huts wondering why the ceiling kept leaking. You might think that caves would be fantastic as long as you don't have to do twenty pages of math homework a night, but math is an essential part of our modern way of life.

Those nights spent over grueling assignments of factoring, graphing, fractions, and the long list goes on, exist for a good reason. Someday a great mystery that unlocks many secrets will be solved and the reason a solution will be found will be due to MATH. So instead of moaning when a teacher assigns tons of homework, stand tall and say "I LOVE MATH."

CRAM THE FACTS

Just memorize it. IT WAS THAT TIME OF THE DAY TO FACE THE DREADED SOCIAL STUDIES CLASS AND THE TESTS THAT CAME WITH IT.

Although each student's individual class schedules vary, one topic could always be found on everybody's class schedule, Social Studies. From A.P. History to Geography, students learned everything from history to law, with economics and government in between.

Cops in the classroom? If you were a student of Mrs. Naylor's Practical Law class the idea wouldn't sound so off the handle. In fact the idea spiced up classroom activities and left some students more aware of the law.

World Cultures left most sophomores looking for those colored pencils they haven't used since sixth grade to color hand-drawn maps of various continents.

The fearful trek to Warmack's trailer was fast approaching as Juniors treaded to their classrooms on the first day of school to attend American History. First encounters left many Juniors realizing that the class wasn't as bad as the upperclassmen made it sound, it actually was kind of fun. Although students struggled to keep their grades up, Warmack's antics made the class a tad more bearable for some, and more frustrating for others.

Government! One word that manages to aggravate many Seniors, if not all. Although the class covered the basics of the U.S. government, a bigger focus was placed upon the "great" American Constitution and finding pocket size constitutions to carry with them at all times.

The GREAT ART

The Painting of words "Writing is nothing more than a guided dream."

--Jorge Luis Borges

Clear Creek has a variety of English classes to offer its students. A side from the traditional English 9 through 12 courses, many students attended such classes as Mythology, Expository Writing, Reading/Study Skills, Topics in Literature, Outdoor Seminar, and Film Study.

English is one of the most important subjects at Clear Creek H.S. Mark Twain once said, "The man who does not read good books has no advantage over the man who can't read them." Some students enjoyed reading Great Books this year while others worked on the componets of the English language. Most students were able to find their place in an English class or two this year.

Even some of the great authors have found that it is important to find one's place in reading and writing:

"Whatever may be our natural talents, the art of writing is not acquired all at once."

--Jean Rousseau."

"Language is the dress of thought."

--Samuel Johnson

UNSUNG HEROS

Behind the Scenes THE PRINCIPAL, THE SECRETARIES, THE JANITORS..... THEY ARE THE TRUE ACADEMIANS BEHIND THE WALL OF ADMINISTRATION.

Dr. Calinger headed up Clear Creek High School's administration team for the second year as principal. In the past year, Dr. Calinger, with funding from the school board, was able to add a computer lab to the Media Center, as well as expand the regular hours of the Media Center to accomodate students during the week after school. His new discipline policies have also appeared to be working.

Although the principal has remained the same, practically everyone else in the High School office recieved a new position this year. For instance, former Carlson Elementary school secretary, Janet Romarine is back, once again greeting students with a smile as the principal's secretary. Lori Martinelli has been switched from Principal's secretary to the guidance office secretary, and bookkeeper Patty Yost has been moved to a more spacious office. Former attendance supervisor Faye Ifft has been replaced by Mary Wray.

The behind the scenes participation of the night janitorial staff as well as the daytime staff, help to keep this school running as well outside as the administration keeps it running inside.

KEEPING CULTURE ALIVE

A Cultural Outlook

You may think you don't need to know a foreign language, but you never know, you may end up in Mexico.

Clear Creek offers many different languages. Studying one of these not only allows you to learn to speak the language, but also gives you an idea of how other cultures live. Ms. Catanese teaches three different Spanish classes, Spanish 1, Spanish 2, and Advanced Spanish. Students learn how to speak Spanish as well as become familiar with the cultures of Spain and Mexico. This year Dr. Calinger taught a Spanish 1 class concentrating on the structure of the language.

Ms. Catanese also teaches French 1, French 2, and Advanced French, which is taught very much like Spanish classes where you learn the language as well as the culture. The French students are planning a trip to France this summer to learn more about the people and their way of life.

German, taught by Mrs. Nagy, is also available at our school. Very similar to Spanish and French, students learn the language and the culture. Every other summer the German students who join a school exchange program spend the month of June in Germany and go to school with their exchange partner. The last week of their vacation they travel in Germany. In April their partner comes and stays with them.

Senior Miriam Himschoot is one of Foreign Languages most outstanding students. She is taking AP Spanish Literature and also AP French Literature for Independent study. All students at Clear Creek have the opportunity to take four years of a language. "You don't start speaking frequently until about your third year of a language," says Mrs. Catanese.

ARTISTIC FIELD

ART IN THE MAKING

Art is one of the most fun but also hardest class anyone can take. It is one of the things that helps people find their artistic talents they never knew they had.

Six different art classes are offered at Clear Creek High. They are Ceramics, Drawing, Painting, Printing, Sculpture, and Portfolio Prep which is a class for students who wish to study art after high school. Four pieces of art were accepted in the State Scholastic Art Show this year. Two pieces won silver key metals. They were "Pain" done by Robin Munro and a ceramic pottery bowl done by Amy Cannady. The other pieces accepted were a Victorian House by Alyssa Darrel and an untitled painting by Jon Strieby. Clear Creek also sets up a student art show for three weeks in the spring.

This year the Art Department set up a Clear Creek Art Gallery. It featured many different pieces from students in art classes. They change the theme frequently. It is located in the commons area of the high school and is open to anyone who is interested.

GETTING DOWN AND DIRTY

In the Gym

FROM A GAME OF ONE ON ONE TO A FULL FLEDGED PRACTICE STUDENTS WERE GETTING DOWN IN THE GYM.

Gym, the students bodies all time favorite class. There are many gym classes offered such as weight lifting, feild sports, court sports and fitness. Mr Bennet, Mr Burns, and Ms. Donahue are the teachers of these classes. The gym was repainted during Christmas vaction and transformed from an ugly brown or yellow walled gym with blue lining to a white walled gym with a blue lining and it was all done in less than two weeks.

During the morning before school when students have a little extra time some play basketball and others just watch. Some of the various sports that go on in the gym is Vollyball, basketball, and wrestling plus baseball in the spring.

The gym is a popular place for the students of CCHS. And it seemes to be popular before and after school. Basketball is the most popular sport for the Gym, The only problem for the Gym is that the people need to get a teacher for in the mornings. Almost every moring the guys and even girls go in for a full court game. But during passing periods people go in for a half court game because of the little middle schoolers take up the gym for their class either with Mr. Burns or Mr. Bennett. So everyday the Gym is filled with people and dribbleing of basketballs and other accessories.

A.C.E. IS THE PLACE

To get it right

AND ACCOMPLISH YOUR GOALS AND ASPIRATIONS FOR YOUR FUTURE PLANS AND EDUCATION.

The Alternative Curricular Education program (A.C.E.), is designed to meet the special needs of students that cannot be met, for whatever reason, through the traditional classroom. This program is for students having difficulty in math, English and a variety of other subjects. Enrolling in the program, assures students of a better chance to graduate. The students receive one on one help with certain subjects, so that each student gets the help they need.

A.C.E. makes learning more interesting and fun for the students that aren't interested in school.

MARCHING TO THE BEAT

Of a New Drummer EVEN THOUGH BAND
HAD A SLOW START IT HAD A BIG FINISH!

Starting the year without a director didn't stop the band. Mrs. Knetsch stepped off the year with marching band. Though the season started four weeks late she managed to prepare the band (with help from Drum Major, Sean Ragain) to play at all the home games. Homecoming was especially spectacular with the surprise number, Labamba (done unconventionally).

Mrs. Knetsch sent the band in a more community oriented direction by having the jazz bands play at such events as: The Benefit for Advocates of Battered Women, The Rotary Club Dinner, The Christmas Mart in Idaho Springs, and The Citizens Park Tree Lighting Ceremony. A small ensemble was put together to play in Silver Plume and at the Idaho Springs Elk's Lodge around Christmas. And some students played in the spring musical pit orchestra. She also planned a few all-band concerts so the community could see their children play.

Spring was a busy time too. The band went to Wind Ensemble District Festival and UNC Greeley Jazz Festival. They had home concerts, Graduation and many students also participated in honor bands.

The band did many fund raisers such as a Music Marathon and a Jazz Band Dance. The Clear Creek County Combined Courts donated $1000 to the band and it made $1800 (with the choir) in a booth selling chestnuts at the Georgetown Christmas mart. Playing and fundraising for future trips and instruments kept the band busy and was a great introduction for Mrs. Knetsch.

HEARING THE VOICES

Singing The Song Choir, one of the most sung about events in the making of the music at Clear Creek High, led by director Diane Moscatello.

Clear Creek Choir is made up of three different groups, Concert choir, Lamination Alley (made up of all girls), and Jasmine, which makes up the highestvoice range of all the choirs. This year the choir has been working hard to raise money for a trip to Florida they are planning to take next year. They have participated in several events including the community Spaghetti Dinner, many concerts, and the Georgetown Christmas Market. They also sang at the Mount Vernon Country Club and went to Metro League.

This year Ian Maxwell was the only person to go to All-State Choir. Congratulations to Meghan Curry, Zach Thaxton, Ian Maxwell, Kate Sorenson, Carly Bol, Chris Carter, and Jason Waldron for being selected for Western Slope Honor. YEARBOOK TRADITIONS

Pressure Points

LATE NIGHTS, EARLY MORNINGS, FRUSTRATING DEADLINES ALL MEAN ONE GREAT BOOK.

Yearbook is a difficult class, but a necessity in High Schools. It is a way to sum up the year, remember your friends, and it gives you something to look back on in twenty years. Everything that goes into the book must be perfect, which always means re-doing a layout at least ten times, tedious corrections, and late nights.

The staff this year, smaller than usual, was headed by editor Andrea Maxwell. She did her best to keep Melissa Jagoda, Sara Nelson, Koreen Myers, Ray Versailles, Steve Files, Erica Mann, Julie Dalpes, Cassi Clark, Wendy Germeroth, and Mei Ly in line. And of course Ms. Mesch was there to keep her and everyone else in line.

All of the hard work paid off, and gave everyone this great book.

Riverwatch first came to our school two years ago. It is a program sponsored by the Colorado Department of Wildlife, which provides all equipment necessary to conduct five tests. These tests determine the Ph, Alkalinity, amount of dissolved oxygen, temperature, the hardness and the kinds and amounts of metals in Chicago Creek. Tests are conducted once a month during the winter, and once a week in the summer time. This allows members to conduct tests when it's convenient for them. Efforts are being made to clean up the waters of Clear Creek, by the Coors Clean Water Program 2000.

N.H.S. NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY MEMBERS HAVE A HIGH SET OF STANDARDS AND WORK HARD TO BE THE BEST.

National Honor Society is an honorary club for above average students who excel in the areas of leadership, service, and academics. This year the group was led by the leadership skills of President Ginny McIlvain, Vice President Mark Buckland, Treasurer Josh Nelson, and Secretary Julie Dalpes.

Each member must participate in eight hours of community service, and maintain a G.P.A. of at least 3.0. This year the group participated in parking lot clean-ups, 6th grade camp, recycling, and even created an academic letter for high achievers in academics. The N.H.S. sponsor, Mr. Gould, helped this elite category of students strive to be the best.

This years seniors include; Mike Anderson, Mark Buckland, Chris Carter, Julie Dalpes, Rebbecca Hediger, Miriam Himshoot, Earnie Hubbard, Dawn Kenner, Melissa Lane, Ginny McIlvain, Bethany Morman, Josh Nelson, Casey Powell, Sean Ragain, Angela Utley, and Rachel Mueller. The Acting Adventure

The experience of acting is always one to remember.

This year's drama department put together many exciting events as well as performances. The Tower Players performed the Shakespearian play "The Two Gentlemen of Verona," which turned out to be a big hit with Towers Players as well as the crowd.

"Guys and Dolls" was this year's exciting musical. "Guys and Dolls" was set in the 1940's which made for a stimulating selection of songs and dances. Drama students would tell you that the musical was a lot of hard work, but in the end all the hard work paid off.

The Tower Players also put together a fund raising Masquerade Dance. The dance turned out to be an enjoyable way to make money for the future costumes and sets for up-coming plays. Parents as well as students had a good time at the Masquerade dance.

The drama department has worked hard for all it has accomplished this year and has succeeded in making the school brighter with all it has done to entertain us. Hopefully the drama department will be around for a very long time to continue bringing a piece of the art world to the little world of Clear Creek High School.

Class Act

By Julie Dalpes

Being a class officer is a lot of hard work. Officers are elected for many reasons. Students say that they look for leadership qualities in the nominees, others complain that "it is only a popularity contest," and still some representatives are elected because they have no competition. Whatever the reason, these elected officials speak for their classmates and make important executive decisions. They are the ones who run class meetings and plan important events, like Prom and Graduation.

This year's Freshman class decided to elect a 'board of directors' to represent their class. Two students from each homeroom were chosen to be on the board. The Freshman class representatives include; Beth Barry, Andrea Hubbard, Shannon Chavez, Tyson Syllery, Jessica Maine, Stephanie Johnson, Stephanie Jorgensen, Carly Olson, Alison Pease and Zackary Warmack.

Sophomores also elected more than the traditional four officers this year. Megan Curry, Melissa Morman, and Kelly Marlin share the responsibilities of the President. Megan Curry commented on this by saying, "Three heads are better than one." The other officers in the Sophomore class are Lynne Ifft as Vice-President, Caleb Holeman as Secretary and J.C. Porter as Treasurer.

The Junior class officers were also hard at work this year. With the guidance of class President, J.J.Reimer, Vice-President Lisa Komoro, Secretary Jessie Watson, and Treasurer Sara Krueger, the class is earning money and planning Prom '95.

David Gumina stepped up to the position as Senior Class President this year. The only comment David had about his promotion was, "I can control their minds!" The other officers include Vice-President Rebecca Hediger, Secretary Julie Dalpes, and Treasurer Josh Nelson. Although little is accomplished in the chaotic Senior class meetings, these individuals put in hours of work on the side planning Baccalaureate and Graduation with the help of Senior class sponsor Ms. Spletzer.

BEHIND

LEGACY

Behind every great artist is an inspiration that helped to contribute not only to the education of the child, but to the character that helped mark that child's legacy.

By Andrea Maxwell

The faculty and administration not only add to the variety of the school's population, but they give a special meaning to the idea of higher education. Teachers focus on areas of special interest, not only adding variety to the curriculum, but also making classes more interesting and of higher value. Teachers such as Bob Warmack were certified to teach certain classes through UNC so students could receive college credit hours in American Government.

Two advanced placement courses, American History and calculus were also offered to give students the leading edge.

In addition to the high quality of education offered, the administration also kept order. Counselor, Mrs. Blue, not only gave up much of her summer for schedule changes and helping nervous Seniors inquiring about their future, she also gathered information on many scholarship opportunities and college applications.

Freshmen

Your Freshman year is often a year to remember. It's a time for good as well as bad memories. You've finally made it to the top of the middle school scene, and feel you've accomplished something, then you find yourself at the bottom of the ladder being pushed around by everyone else. But it will all pay off in the years to come because you can only climb up that ladder to success.

Raisin' the Dough

By Erica Mann

Some say love makes the world go round, but for juniors the world revolved around money. The junior class was very prompt to grab all the open concession dates there were. They started off at the 1st volleyball game doing concessions, one of many fundraising activities. At the Homecoming Football game they sold blue and gold pom poms, while the rest worked the concessions. Everyday after school some of the junior class members rushed to the commons to set up their school junk food table. At Halloween they sold Hallograms for 25 cents each, and Thanksgiving grams for 25 cents also.

These are just some of the fundraisers that the juniors did. The junior class is scrambling for money to make prom '95' the best.

Teenagers are prone to get into trouble, it's inevitable.
The problem is when they get caught, they get...

Grounded !

By Cassi Clark & Melissa Jagoda

The Juniors found creative ways to get in trouble this past year. For instance, Peter Rozelle played soccer with a tennis ball soaked in gasoline and lit on fire, John Hauser bungee jumped, an anonymous student made pipe bombs, while another burnt his parents' bed and blamed it on his siblings.

Although these rebellious acts may not be common, sneaking out is a very popular trouble maker. "Of course if you don't get caught, you don't get grounded." Melissa Jagoda boasts.

Common offenses also include "borrowing" their parents' car or ditching class.

Students occasionally may learn lessons from being grounded, as they enlighten us with this hard-learned advice:

"Never lie" -Michelle Feistner,

"Kiss up" -Melissa Billau and

"Come home on time" -Rachel Barta. But anyone that has ever been in trouble will agree that the best advice is simply not getting caught.

Deeper and Deeper

By Andrea Maxwell and Mei Ly

With high school almost to a close and graduation just around the corner, Seniors from all walks of life are struggling for admittance to universities, higher ACT and SAT scores, and the fact that life as they know it, is coming to a close. Without the guidance of parents, many Seniors are finding it harder to accept living on their own. By looking deeper into themselves for success, many Seniors are finding that maturing really isn't as hard as everyone makes it out to be.

165 Days and Counting Senioritis

By: Melissa Jagoda

Senioritis is a "disease" that usually affects seniors around February, although many claim that it overtook their brains during their junior year. Once they realize that their high school career is coming to an end, seniors seem to lose interest in school and focus more on outside activities. Students lucky enough to have a schedule full of free blocks and study halls may find it easier than those trying to finish their required classes, yet all feel that Senioritis is a well deserved mental vacation.

When Julie Dalpes and Becky Scott were asked about Senioritis, they replied "What is it? If it's sexually transmitted, we don't have it."

Aaron Marano claims that he "Hasn't done S?#T for 4 years."

Mei Sheng Ly feels that "Senioritis is here and it's not going anywhere."

Through thick and thin, friends managed to stick together helping each other become stronger, and preparing themselves for life.

Many will venture their separate ways, but will never forget

Five days till Friday..... Hang'n Out

By: Erica Mann

Seniors have lots of Spare Time on their hands other than school related activities. After a long week at school students need the weekend to do what they want to do. Around 70% of the seniors interviewed liked to hangout and party with their friends. Whereas senior Tophier Chandler, "loves to study the balding of middle aged men and test the flamability of cat fur." However, most seniors agree with Cassie Baird, "What spare time?"

These seniors when asked, "what do you like to do in your spare time." Responses varied any where from "I like to watch the Denver Broncos lose." Nathian Lane. to "Eat licorice." Wendy Germeroth. Some responses even went as far out to say, "I gear myself up for the England trip." replies Andrea Maxwell and "My spare time is spent in the mall with my boyfriend" answers Mei Ly.

Changing Lifestyles Another World

By: Codi Glennon

Fernando Hernandez is a foreign exchange student from Mexico. Fernando is 17 years of age and is a Senior. He will be visiting Colorado for one year to meet new people, make friends, experience our culture and learn our language, but maybe most importantly, to learn how different high schools can be.

Fernando says, "That everything is so different here." He comments that school is different from Mexico because you take more classes, and get vacation time in the summer, spring, fall and winter. He enjoys the mountains and skiing. Fernando says, "Colorado is a very neat and different place." His favorite class is Spanish and his favorite teacher is Mrs. Catanese.

Fernando is finding it interesting trying to adapt to the change in the weather, "It is a lot hotter in Mexico than Colorado."

Above: "Yes it is a lot different out here." comments Fernando.

By Andrea Maxwell

Memories of the first day of school, new teachers and administrators football season, homecoming, the Senior dump truck float, Two Gentlemen of Verona, Shakespeare. volleyball season, basketball, wrestling, ski team, cheerleading, and sports. Broncos. Coach Shanahan. Cross Country excellence. Channel Four, and a new banner for the girls Cross Country team. Speed and Keanu Reeves. Government and Warmack philosophy versus Dallas philosophy. Science, math and Single Living. Important tests like SAT, ACT, ASVAB and PSAT. Twelve (+) page reports, Stress. Counting Crows, OFFSPRING. Memories of friends, foreign exchange students and tourist drivers. Homework, late night essays and college applications. The X-Generation. Part time jobs, after school activities and lazy Saturday afternoons. Denver Grizzlies Hockey. Nuggets Basketball. Guys and Dolls. Brad Pitt (31?). New Carpet, a paved parking lot, driving experiences. One room school, 7-11, Subway. O.J. Simpson (guilty or innocent?). Memories of the England trip, the Spanish trip, and many other field trips. Oblivion. Prom. Baccalaureate. GRADUATION. And pure memories.
