Take Another Look

This is a beautiful photograph of the Charlie Taylor Waterwheel and Bridal Veil Falls. This is quite a memorable scene that will remain pleasant to visit for many years to come. In the top, left corner of the picture is the location of the annual 4th of July fireworks display. Thousands of people watch this entertaining display from all over Idaho Springs. During Christmas and Halloween, the waterwheel is decorated by a brave few. At Christmas it is decorated with elegant and cheerful lights. At Halloween, it turns into our county's largest and most pleasant jack-o-lantern! This place will always be a fond memory for all Clear Creek High School student.

Amanda, Angel, Tim, and Chase are busy learning as always.

Student Life

Times

The Students of Clear Creek High School. Each have his or her own personality and views on every subject. Every single one of us has a dream and an aspiration. As a freshman, everything is new and cool. As a sophomore, you start to hit on heavy loads of bookwork and homework. As a junior, you positively can't wait to be a senior. Finally, as a senior, the moments seem to pass incredibly slow and every day seems endless! Each year our views change, but one thing always remains the same... Where's the fun!?! At least we all have smiles on our faces!!

Luke Neopens, Kris Bryian, and Tony Olivas all anxiously await their next class.

Everyone, well almost everyone pays attention in Ms. Naylor's class.

Kelly, Shannon, Lisa, Taylor, and Amanda pose in the crowded locker room before practice.

digger PRIDE

Homecoming week was a huge success for everyone!!

Never has the pride of Clear Creek High School been more apparent than it was this year. The students lead the way to Homecoming Day, bringing with them the rest of the community. Students pulled together to prove to each other what Homecoming is all about; friendship, pride, and fun! Spirit week was all consuming, bringing together all the students of Clear Creek. The parade was exciting! It gave all students the opportunity to see what each class could create, and indeed how much Clear Creek pride they had running through them. In its entirety, the week was a sight to behold and something that will not soon be forgotten.

Molly Winter shows
how much school spirit she has.

The senior class float was an unusual one this year.

The Varsity Volleyball team waits to win their homecoming game.

The Sophomore Class grabs the western spirit.

Dancing the night away

The 1999-2000 "Heavenly Homecoming", was held at Carlson Elementary. There was music, dancing, and many fine looking honeys! Even a few brave souls tested their talents at lipsinking. One of these cuties was Alex Hinojos, who performed with a few fellow football players..... Did we mention that he was wearing a red dress!!!

If you missed this year's homecoming dance, it was a blast! All of the ladies were wearing beautiful dresses and looking mighty good! The men were surprisingly enthusiastic and always very handsome. This dance will always be remembered in the minds of Clear Creek students.

These three lovely ladies show their friends how to "get jiggle wit' it."

just CHILLIN'

Hanging out with friends –
a favorite past-time

One of the best things to do while you're at school is hang out with your friends. Lunchtime, during passing periods, and before and after school are all perfect times to catch up on the latest breaking news. Yet it isn't all fun and games. Many students use this time to do last minute homework, or to get a little more study-time in before a big test! Anyway the time students spend 'just chillin'', is the most fun and rewarding part of each day.

Hello up there! Here are just a few of the Golddigger fans showing their support while hanging with friends.

Smile! Here Taylor Lareau and Haley Cook take a few moments to relax and smile for the camera.

Get back to work! These girls decided for a moment that school should be all fun and smiles.

Hey there studs! Stephen Gulau, Tony Olivas, Ben Luelin, Jeremy Waldron, and Bob Benhoff are just a few of our ever-amusing senior boys.

In the immortal words of Warmack, "Drag your sorry carcass out of the parking lot!" But really, they enjoy it too much.

Only at Clear Creek can three friends can sit, talk, and smile on the steps in the commons.

Travis Parr, Alyssa Hubbard and Penn Brandt say "peace" to the camera while hanging out at a digger football game.

Making friends to be with is a memorable part of high school

Clear Creek High School is full of friendships. Besides coming to school to learn, we come to socialize. Friends are an important part of everyone's lives; we need them for comfort and support.

It is all a matter of trust, and Clear Creek has that in abundance.

Miriah Gish and Scott Baldwin, friends for life, "work" on their World Cultures together.

Cheerleaders are more than cheerleaders. They are life long friends.

summer BREAK

Freetime in the sun brings many different activities

During the summer of 1999 Clear Creek students vacationed to various places. Some went to beaches or lakes, others to relatives' homes, some had competitions while many stayed home and relaxed. People participated in summer sports to stay in shape. Bicycling, bowling and playing baseball are some of these. A select few had the privilege of traveling to far away places, like Germany. Others stayed in their very own back yards, to fraternize with their friends, hang out, and make new acquaintances.

Some people say that the summer is too long, but most say that summer is too short. Just look at it this way, "There is always next summer for more fun in the sun!"

Luke Nopens tried hard to leave his BMX competitors in the dust at Rocky Mountain Nationals this summer.

Becca Warmack worked very hard this summer. Yeah, on her tan!!

No, those aren't monkeys! It's a group of senior girls on their trip to New Orleans.

Alex Hinojos, Noah Kowalski, and Luke Foley are looking hot . . . ! It looks like another scorching day in Missouri.

Emily Schleicher, Katie Mullen, Allison Jennings, Megan Wilson, Glenna Stewart, and Frau Cook traveled to Germany this summer for a bit of culture and entertainment.

Wow! Look at that height! That's Scott Chandler on his dirt bike.

Leaders of the PACK

Our Student Leaders have earned respect through hard work.

When one thinks back on their time at Clear Creek High, there will be a few students who will stand out. These few have a certain something about them that makes them special. They are the leaders that have helped give Clear Creek a good name and make you proud to belong. These leaders earned their positions through hard work, whether it be in academics, sports, or drama. Younger students do not have to look hard for role models because these students are here to guide. They are and always will be the cream of the crop.

Colin Hale- Colin is a truly beautiful person. He is gifted in so many facets ranging from football to drama, and in each realm he is a master. Not only is he extremely active in school, but his unique personality shines. He is a person that everyone enjoys being around. Thanks for being a true leader!

Stefanie Misztal- This beautiful girl is taking the school by storm! Stefanie brings a whole new meaning to the word "achievement." She is gifted in music as well as academics. It is plain to see that she will go far.

Glenna Stewart- Glenna is a wonderful and very powerful person. When it comes to extracurricular activities such as drama, yearbook and competition government, she is always at the top. When she has an idea to add to the discussion or a way to solve a problem, people listen. This is due to the fact that she comes up with the most interesting and feasible ways to accomplish set goals.

Luke Foley- Here is one guy you can count on for anything! Luke participates in activities ranging from football to National Honor Society. He has a wonderful sense of humor and a charismatic personality. People look to him in admiration. He is a true role model.

Graham Anderson- Well what is there to say about Mr. President? Graham has exceeded everybody's expectations and risen to one of the most admirable positions at Clear Creek. He is a skilled speaker, drummer and actor whose talent is oozing from him.

Laura Davis- Taking into consideration that Laura is very ambitious, one can see why she is a student leader. She has participated in Student Council and Drama, among other things, throughout her high school career. Is there anything that this girl cannot do?!

The commons at lunch-time looks like a sardine can!

Clint Neigel, Mckenna Reich, and Brandon Filkins share lunch with a mysterious stranger.

The CCHS cheerleaders, spend lunch-time together .

Laura Brush, scared by the camera, makes a funny face!

Will Stevens runs into a little trouble paying what he owes.

start GRUBBIN'

It's time for another lunch at Clear Creek

Having lunch half way through the day is a welcomed relief. Many students stay at school and bring their own lunch, or take their chances with the mystery meat of the day. Other students take advantage of their off-campus privileges and go to places like Taco Bell, McDonalds, Burger King, Subway, or Safeway. Lunch is a good time to relax, eat, and talk with your buddies. But don't you think that it should be more like 45 minutes?

Trisha Buehrle, Courtney Lee, and Eleanor Belt are having a blast while eating their lunch!

Is it Trendy to be TRENDY?

This years' fashion varied tremendously from person to unique person

Fleece vests, cargo pants, with popular brands, and power bracelets are some trendy fads that were worn this year. "Performance" fleece vests can be seen in our very own cafeteria in a variety of colors. Students wear cargo pants with pockets on the thigh and some have pockets by the ankle. There are even people who wear black dress pants with cargo pockets on them. Pockets, pockets everywhere! Of course baggy pants are still in style. How many of these students will look back on these trends and laugh in 20 years?

Eric Anderson is making a fashion statement by wearing a fleece vest, one of the most popular pieces of the year.

Forest Rossetter is dressed "sport casual" in his soccer jersey and glasses.

Robyn Stringfellow and Kelly Koopman look like twins in their attempt to dress differently! Oh well, girls think alike!

Well, Haley Cook is definitely making a statement! Let's hope not everything in her closet has so many feathers!

Checkout this short, fashionable skirt that Leslie Voisard is wearing. Doesn't her outfit just scream—PIZZAZZ!

Kalia Ostoff definitely knows how to decorate her locker! You can not even see a bit of metal on the inside of her locker.

Stephanie Misztal looks a bit upset while trying to get into her locker. Guess it just wouldn't open for her.

Noah Kowalewski seems to have a few too many useless items in his locker. It's a good thing that he made a nice catch!

April Vieweg, one of the lucky ones, has a close friend to share lockers with. Her single locker has been transformed into a "double long."

Those Little BLUE CAVES

Everyone's locker is different . . .
on the inside.

There is one place at Clear Creek that all the students visit everyday, our lockers! The only thing that usually happens at our lockers is gossiping and great conversation. Sometimes you may actually grab a book or two for your next class. Your locker is the only place at school that you can customize to your liking. It is also the only place large enough to hold the tens of books that you have for all of your classes.

Ashley Gilbert has almost got that decoration skill down. Now she needs some help with organization.

Making BANK!

Having a job is more than just something to do after school

Students at Clear Creek must admit there isn't much to do during free time. Many people have used this opportunity to earn money. This money goes for cars, hobbies and college. This desire for "dough" drives students to find that ultimate job. There are all kinds of places throughout the county for students to work ranging from Loveland Ski Area to Wal-Mart. Students work after school and on the weekends. Some even participate in the work-study program offered through the school allowing them to work during the day as well. There are a few hearty students that maintain jobs year round, while some choose to work on a seasonal basis. In any case, students get a taste of how things will be when their life at Clear Creek High School is finished.

Josh Duran, hard working member of Safeway, finds time to do everything, together with making his customers laugh.

Hayley Leitch, a remarkable worker, smiles for the Yearbook staff while working at Total.

Heidi Lauterbach is a proud member of the WalMart staff. She is tenacious, dependable and courteous.

Penn Brandt and Nick Condon, surrounded with outdoor equipment, enjoy their jobs at the Outback.

Leslie Voisard is taking some time out from her job at the Giggling Grizzly to day dream.

Jennifer Brickhouse keeps her eyes on the pool while working at the Recreational Center as a lifeguard.

Notes are an imperative part of school! That is why Lindsay Donahue and Maggie Hill are concentrating so hard.

The grades that Ashley Gilbert receives don't just appear, they are all earned through hard work.

Leslie Voisard is devoted to her work.

Nine to FIVE

Clear Creek Students Study Habits

It's all about location, location, location! It doesn't matter where the students of Clear Creek study, our work ethic is great! In any given day, a person can see students working in a vast array of places. Whether it is the library or the commons, the classroom or by the lockers, we get our work done and we do it well! It is plain to see that the students have determination and an interest in what they are learning, which will only lead to further achievements.

Check out the determination on the faces of Ben Anderson and P.J. Christopher as they tune into Warmack.

Zach Spencer seems to be completely frustrated with his Calculus homework.

With the amount of energy that Annelise Lovelie puts in to her homework you know that she going to get an A+.

Getting AROUND

Student transportation

The Clear Creek Community is so widespread that getting to and from school is challenging. Some students are privileged to have a license. These fortunate few find it easy to get to school, except when they run out of gas money! Another problem is the constant fight for a parking space. There are more cars than spaces! Most students are forced to ride with a friend or parent, walk or take the bus. Some prefer not to take the conventional forms of transportation and use bikes, skateboards, and roller blades.

Patty Orehek's Toyota Corolla is spiffed up with fancy stickers. What a nice car!

Arylann Dornis has a classy Ford Mustang.
You can't find cars like this now-a-days.

Stephen Gulau's car is capable of standing out in a crowd!
He has a catchy little logo, "Steve's Mobile Rust Repair."

Bikes are one of the many forms of transportation here at school. They are a healthy and cheap way to get around.

Kate Smith grows about 3 inches with her flaming hot shoes. These sporty shoes help get her to and from school not to mention around the school as well.

Jamie Nixon crushes everything in his path with his great big Ford monster truck. His truck will stand out in a crowd, literally!

Mrs. Spencer shows the class that she is willing to get down right dirty just to teach them what they needed to know.

Ben Anderson shows how he can "dance".

People

Faces

The students at Clear Creek High School are known for the strange things they have done, and they always leave a memorable impression. Although at times people wonder why we do rather odd things, we all know that it is all in good fun. We express it through our academics or through our athletics. Still there are those of us who show it through our everyday activities. We all express ourselves in one way or another. Since each and everyone of us posses this quality, we are all seen as unique individuals.

Johnny Ahern and Scott Baldwin show off for the camera while walking back to science class.

Patty Orehek finishes her lunch before an arduous afternoon.

Juniors show what there made of at lunch.

With only one year left, and (almost) three behind them, the juniors show that they are ready to take their places in the real world. The addition of A.P. Classes changes the intensity of their classes, and prepares them for college. Plus, they are all of driving age, so the universe has opened up an entirely new realm to them. With all these exciting adventures, how do they manage it?

“W hoopee! I just got my license!” These words are now a regular part of the sophomore lingo. With one year of high school under their belts, they are slightly better in tuned with how things work. They even tend to think of themselves as experts in the whole high school thing, although the rest of us know better. Luckily they have each other for support and friendships that will last a lifetime.

2003

The dazed looks and confused faces are apparent on many of the freshmen this year. However, most of them seem to enjoy this year of transition. They are making names for themselves in the ever-changing melodrama that is High School. Luckily, it only gets better from here. Keep muddling through guys!

There's no

in team

Sports have always been popular at Clear Creek. Not only does participating in a sport give students something to do after school, but participation also gives a sense of teamwork. Working with others toward a common goal is important, and meeting that goal can be very fulfilling. Coaches work very hard to bring players together and "whip them into shape." There is so much to be learned on the field, court, mat, or slope. And besides, a little healthy competition never hurt anyone!

GO big blue!

Football-Digger Style

Excellent job once again, men! The CCHS Football players made us proud with their heart, will of iron, and pride. They survived a season of injuries and heartbreak, but in the first round of playoffs the disheartened Diggers trudged sadly home to their base of loyal and supportive fans. Clear Creek was proud, and will be again in the future.

A-C- Ahhh! E!

Volleyball can you DIG it!

Cheers always rumbled through the Digger gymnasium after the Lady Golddiggers scored! The Diggers had an excellent year with a final record of 10-10. One of the highlights was when the CCHS Lady Diggers defeated the Summit Tigers on home turf, an event that hasn't happened for a number of years. They made it to district competition after defeating Colorado Academy in their pigtail competition. Wendi Cook was the head coach, with the new addition- Carl Browne as the JV coach. Rhoda Schleicher headed the "C" team. The Varsity's Most Valuable Player for ninety-nine was Jane Tschetter. The award for Most Improved went to Annie Sproul and Most Inspirational went to Allison Jennings. The Clear Creek Lady Golddiggers loose three seniors/captains to graduation, but are looking forward to an even better season next year.

Doesn't the varsity volleyball team look great at homecoming!

RUN like the wind!

“I just felt like running”

- Forrest Gump

While these star athletes were journeying toward greatness, the rest of us watched in awe as these warriors of the road made yet another push to championship. Cross country took 1st in State, as they battled weakness, muscle cramps, shin splints, and other war wounds on roads less traveled. This is in part because of their new assistant coach Deb Davies, and the old veteran, Coach Miller. Keep on running guys!

Senior Ben Lewellin passes his competitors with the greatest of ease.

“Ladies and Gentlemen, we present the Cross Country team of 1999-2000!”

GO Team Go!

Boys' Basketball

"Swish! Swoosh! And the crowd goes wild!" These sounds were common this year for the boys' basketball team. They played their hearts out, and the dedicated souls even triumphed a bit. With only a few seniors leading the team this year, the boys had a great season, and their spirits certainly show it! Good job boys!

Here we have the boys' basket ball team all lined up to practice shooting their hoops.

HOOP it Up!

Girls' Basketball

The girls' basketball team here at Clear Creek really knows how to move that ball! They work hard at practice and that work is rewarded when they get on the court. The coaches ensure that the girls remain in shape and keep their grades up. In doing so the girls have shown excellent sportsmanship on and off the court, and have beaten some of the toughest teams out there! Way to go Girls! !

RAH Rah Rah!

Cheerleaders

Clear Creek students and citizens were surprised this year to find that we had a new cheerleading squad. This is due to the fact that we haven't had one in years. The community's surprise turned to excitement the first time they saw the squad in action. Even though the girls didn't have uniforms, they made a positive impact on the crowd. The cheerleaders are responsible for some of the awesome decorations at the school as well as at games. The cheerleaders have two seasons; fall and spring, practicing everyday after school. They cheer at most home games and often travel to games at other schools. Cheerleaders boost school pride and show that pep is in the air at CCHS.

IT'S all Downhill!

Ski Team

The Clear Creek Ski Team worked hard and performed great on the slopes this year. They competed in downhill and cross-country, and a few team members set personal records. All members kept up their grades, so as not to run "the Log". Coach Fredell and Coach Guess made sure that their team was strong and healthy, and the team responded with only one or two minor injuries. Ski Team not only met their goals this year, but exceeded them in many ways !

Haley Cook, John Kiltze, and Jill Kirschke haul the infamous "log" up the hill for conditioning during ski team practice.

THEY'RE Potentially Dangerous!

Pin 'um In One Second Flat.

The above is a good way to explain Clear Creek's wrestling team. Not only is the team unstoppable and wild; so are the coaches, Mr. Paisley and Art Jiminez.

Mr. Paisley keeps the boys in shape by working them hard. With a "gentle" tap of a golf club, Paisley works his team and teaches them self-discipline. Coach Jiminez trains hard with the team, teaching them the right moves.

Wrestling is a difficult sport. The boys have to watch everything that they eat, so as to make their weight class. Why all this work? They do it in order to win the match and make the students and staff at Clear Creek proud.

Work, Work

Is there anything in this world that gives a person more pleasure than earning wonderful grades? Here at Clear Creek there are many students who can have excellent grades. This is due to the dedication of the students and staff. We pride ourselves in our achievements, and it is because of this, that Clear Creek students will prosper in the future.

Bre Baker cannot think of anything she would rather be doing now than taking notes.

Every Step of the Way

Students at Clear Creek depend on the faculty to get through four long years of high school. Our faculty is made up of teachers, coaches, lunch personnel, office staff, custodial staff, counselors, and more. These people do all that they can to assist and guide us. Without them we would be nowhere! We, as students, need to learn to appreciate the faculty for all of their hard work. The teachers sacrifice their free time by being coaches and teaching more than one subject. The lunch crew does everything in their power to keep us fed. The office staff keeps the school running smoothly. The custodial staff works very hard to constantly fix what's broken and always keep the school looking nice inside and out. The counselor has to keep our schedules organized. Without our hardworking faculty we would not be where we are today.

Mr. Greek is always hard at work making this a better school.

Ms. Naylor always teaches her Geography classes with a smile.

Mrs. Scott still maintains her enthusiasm while teaching a sophomore class.

Ms. Moe's happy, smiling face is always encouraging for students who stop by the Media Center.

Mrs. Spencer knows teaching Math is a dirty job, but someone has to do it.

Math

Mrs. Spencer, Mr. Griffin, and Mr. Scheussler continue to boggle the minds of their pupils. These students unravel the mysteries of the universe and time, in a highly extraordinary way. Polar coordinates, algorithms, theorems, postulates, and equations of every sort are merely another part of an exciting adventure known as Mathematics.

Science

Fetal pigs, combustible and potentially dangerous chemicals, unraveling the web of life, and lots of dissection: these are but a few of the adventures in science class. The new addition to the Science department this year was Mr. Henry. Thanks for making Biology and Current Science even more intriguing! Mrs. Spletzer and Mr. Fredell continue to challenge their students, with Fredell taking on the laborious task of teaching Anatomy. Everyone appreciates wonderful teachers and a challenging curriculum.

Social Studies

The social studies teachers don't suffer fools gladly. Mr. Warmack took no prisoners in his American History, We The People, Economics, and AP History classes this year! A new addition to the department was Ms. Scott who is now teaching U.S. History and World Cultures. Ms. Naylor, who has dazzled us for years, continues to teach Law, Geography, and International Relations. These gifted teachers and worldly topics have taught Clear Creek students something that won't soon be forgotten; that is, how big and wonderful the world really is.

English

Shakespeare, Thoreau, and so much more! The English language is beautiful and poetic. It is the duty of a select few to teach us just how marvelous it is. Who better to do that than extraordinary teachers like Mrs. Helseth, Mrs. Mortell, Mr. Humphrey and Ms. McIntyre? For four years we are taught to imagine, explore, and live the classics. It is the hope of the faculty that these lessons will better prepare us for the world beyond Clear Creek County. Even after we leave Clear Creek we will be asking ourselves, "To be or not to be?"

Foreign Language

This year has been an exciting one for the foreign language department. CCHS acquired two new teachers, Mrs. Ford, and Mrs. Lindgren. Mrs. Lindgren has come all the way from France to be with us this year. She teaches French and Spanish. Mrs. Ford is assisting her by teaching Spanish as well. Even with all the fuss about our two new faculty members, we mustn't forget a beloved German teacher, Mrs. Cook. She teaches German and Spanish and remains a favorite with the students.

Above right: Hola! Spanish 3 and 4 listen intently to their teacher.

Art

Is that a Monet? Mrs. Unseld is the art teacher here at CCHS. In her class, students are guided through the history and development of art. She encourages students to "expand their horizons" for the sake of future art work.

We have some very talented artists here at Clear Creek. That is an obvious fact glancing at the student gallery. If that isn't enough for you there is also an annual student show held at the Majestic Building. If you're looking for a class to fill your schedule, don't hesitate to consider an art class. The art classes offered at CCHS are AP art, ceramics, sculpture, painting, and printmaking; you never know where your talent might be!

We the People

Who knows how feudalism affected the constitution? Who lived in the Media Center with their noses crammed in Constitutional texts? Who can let Supreme Court cases roll off their tongues like water? If you guessed the We the People government class, you are correct! These fierce competitors spent an entire semester absorbing every morsel of Constitutional information available to them. It showed, since they took 2nd place in the State competition, and had the highest scoring panel at the Competition. Excellent job!

Above right: Get back to work! One of the “joys” of participating in competition government is living in the library.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society is a National organization based on scholarship, leadership, character, and service. In order to be considered for a membership a student must have a 3.25 grade point average and be elected by the staff of Clear Creek. Applications are sent out to students who have the required GPA and are then narrowed down by a panel of school judges. NHS focuses on giving back to the community. They participate in many types of volunteer activities. Mrs. Spletzer sponsors this club.

One Room

The One Room School is an alternative to the sometimes rigid, box-like standards of a regular school environment. The students still achieve their goals, and receive diplomas, they just go about the process a little differently. This is a wonderful learning opportunity, and we're glad to have them as a part of CCHS.

Yearbook

Too Much Work and Too Little Time!
This year's yearbook was no longer offered as a class but an extracurricular activity. There were just five members but what we lacked in man power we more than made up for in hard work. Yearbook got off to a late start but we quickly picked up the pace as deadlines approached. Being part of yearbook staff is hard work. There are pictures to take, film to develop, copies and captions to write, ads to sell and deadlines to meet. It can be stressful at times but it's worth all of the hard work.

Our very grateful thanks go out to Mr. Dale LaGrange of LaGrange Photographics for the countless photos he donated to the Clear Creek Yearbook. The quality of this book has been elevated by your work. We couldn't have done it without you.

MANY, MANY THANKS TO EINAR JENSEN FOR YOUR WONDERFUL CONTRIBUTIONS AND STEADFAST PATIENCE. WE THANK YOU FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEARTS!

All That Jazz

The diverse musicians of Clear Creek unite to entertain and beautify the ears and souls of their non-musical peers. The choir is best known for its smashing Holiday Concert, but throughout the year they dazzle us. The band also never ceases to amaze us. They took 9th in the State. Lights, Camera, Action!

Clear Creek had a smash hit in the fall play "Absolutely Murder." Corpses in the cupboards, missing bodies, and stranded damsels abounded in this comical farce. Veteran Tower Players Glenna Stewart, Graham Anderson, Laura Davis, Brian Sillery, and Angie Fink presented the play by Guernsey LePelley. They were supported by a stupendous crew; Chris Wallace, Katie Mullen and Evan Lewis.

Tim Bennhoff and his nut "parents" gave everyone a laugh at the fall play.

HERFF JONES

RECOGNITION • EDUCATION • MOTIVATION

At Herff Jones, we don't rely on a single production method to create your yearbook. Our unique multitrack production system provides flexibility and proven reliability to produce the best yearbook possible, delivered on time. We carefully examine each of your photos and pages, and then determine the production track that will generate the highest quality results.

Will our system work for you? Judge us by the company we keep. Herff Jones consistently produces more award winning yearbooks than any other yearbook company. In the past three judging years, yearbooks printed by Herff Jones received the following awards: CSPA- 38 Gold Crowns and 32 Silver Crowns; and at JEA/NSPA 24 Pacemakers.

This past year Herff Jones printed over 53 percent of CHSPA award winning books, more than any other company in the state.

For more information about Herff Jones and our product offerings, please contact your Herff Jones Sales Representative, Jim Herbertson at (720) 851-1827.
