A MESSAGE FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT

Class of 1942, you have made fine contributions to your school and community. Your sincere democratic spirit has been appreciated.

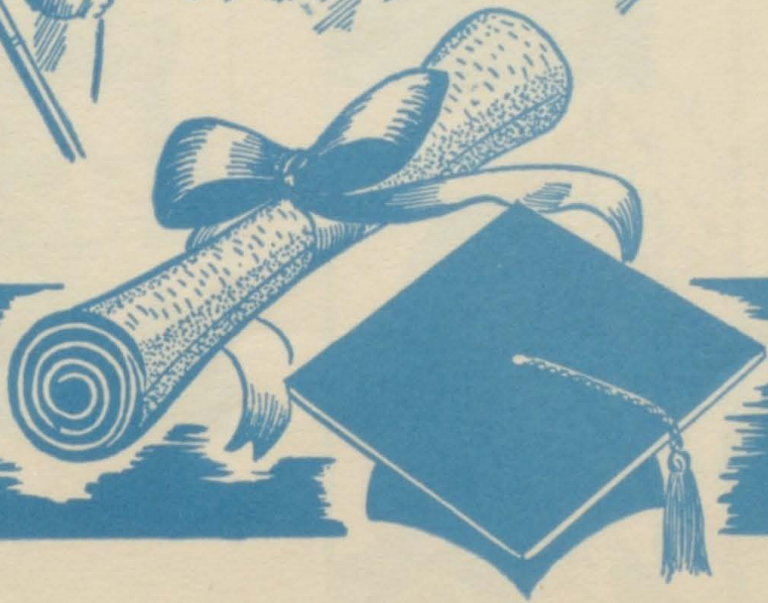

You are facing a world of war, but I hope you continue to face your problems as you have faced them here, honestly, and with sincerity.

Never submit to a dictator or tyrant, except "Be 'King' of yourself, and a Servant of Man." May this be your basic philosophy that will enable you to leave this world better than you found it.

Here comes the bus--Graduation Bound--and after twelve years of touring it has almost reached its destination. But let's look back to see when and where they all climbed on. The first year they traveled, they had Driver Gunyon and on her stop she picked up Beverly Hull, Betty Herrin, Regina Kriley, Joan Pratt, Jerry Moore, John Deitchel, Floyd Miller and Junior Ruberg. They then transferred at Readingsville where Miss Carlson was the driver. Only one passenger, Marjorie Lamb, got on that year. Miss Ford then relieved Miss Carlson and brought with her Dean Ruth.

At their next stop they met Miss Tippet to carry them through the year to Miss Hallen's door. On the way Miss Hallen picked up Jim Huber. The year following, Miss Shaffer prepared them for the long journey ahead, junior high and high school. At this next stop they met the gentlemen who has taken them over the bumpiest road on their highway, none other than Mr. Elder. After much persuasion the ticket seller sold tickets to Eleanor Jackson and Rex Randall to be followed by Del Puls and Herman Paul. During the first year of high school no new passengers were put aboard but in the tenth year they picked up Bill Yeager, Dorothy Krueger and Betty Jo Huncr. At the crossroads they met Dwain Hagerman and then on the homeward stretch they found Charlene Emmons and Jack Hinman, who were more than willing to finish the ride with them.

And there you have the class of '42. It has been a glorious twelve years of journeying and we all wish good luck to every one of them as they start on a new road of life.

We look ahead ten years when we are men and women of the world. With due respect to the students and the professions they wish to follow, these headlines have been discovered in the news.

Stan August has just released his newest Hollyforest production, called "In the Good Old Days."

Charlene Emmons is now the nurse every patient wants. A nurse like her and prescriptions by Miller will cure anything.

Quack! Quack! It's not a duck farm but Dr. Hagerman and one of his patients at the Superman Cure-All Clinic.

Betty Herrin, another angel of mercy, is now second lieutenant nurse to a first lieutenant in the air corps.

Jack Hinman has been advanced again in the U. S. Marines. If he keeps it up he'll soon own the thing.

Jim Huber, popularly known as the "King of the Speedway," is now the manager of Huber's Hurricane Hauling Service.

Beverly Hull, proprietess of the Fixall Drug Stores, Inc., returned home today after spending her vacation with private nurse Betty Jo Huner, who is assisting Dr. Kildare.

Eleanor Jackson, well known authority on dietetics, will be the guest speaker at "The Wee Women of Western Wit" tonight at 8:30. She will speak on "How to Gain Weight".

Regina Kriley and Margie Lamb are still footloose and fancy free, two stenographers they want to be; still trucking and pecking, now have learned to ski.

Dorothy Krueger is in the army now. (As a nurse of course.)

Floyd Miller, chief electrician at Boulder Dam, is reported to be completing his invention of the square light bulb.

Jerry Moore, once secretary at M. J. M. (more of Jerry Moore) Studios, is now before the camera beating out rhythm with her fast feet.

Herman Paul, famous Professor of American Slang, is now located at the Karlson Kollege of Korny Knowledge.

Joan Pratt, private secretary to J. Edgar Hoover at Washington. Any similarity to the job and Pratt's curiosity are purely--tied up together.

Del Puls, step inside the Danger-Way Store and shake hands with manager Puls.

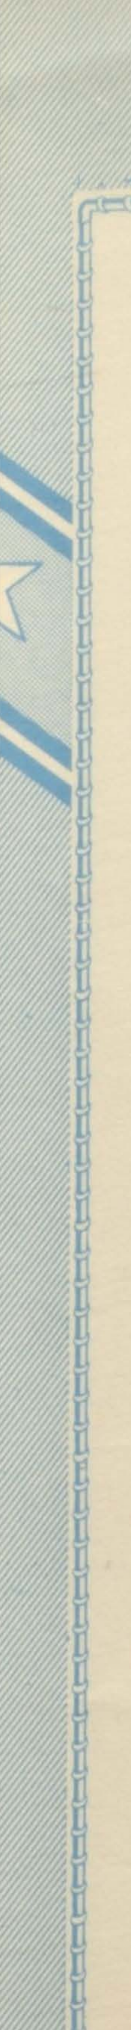

Flash! Rex Randall was suggested today for promotion to the rank of Admiral in our Navy by Senator J. Price Briscoe. Bon Voyage, Rex.

Junior Ruberg and John Deitchel are now master mechanics for '28 Buicks at Junior's Junky Jive, the home of retreading for retreaded tires.

The Ruth Construction Co. has completed plans for the new drive to Flirtation Peak. Dean Ruth, chief engineer, states that the highway will be completed by the opening of the fall term.

Bill Yeager, it has been reported, is selling ice-cream to the Eskimos.

We, the members of the Senior Class of '42, being of sound mind and realizing our own great abilities, hereby give and bequeath all our worldly goods as follows:

Stan August leaves his power of ventriloquism (and his dummy) to C. F. Murphy.

John Deitchel leaves his Buick '28 to the Pep Club hoping that they will pep it up.

Charlene Emmons leaves the Mines Theatre to Frances Bishopp.

Dwain Hagerman leaves "Superman" to the comics (the Juniors). May they have as much success as he had with him.

Betty Herrin leaves her pep, her pals, and Mr. Morhart to next year's Chem. Class.

Beverly Hull leaves her height to Maxine Straub and her soda-jerking the the jerks.

Betty Jo Huner leaves her ability to play basketball to next year's team.

Eleanor Jackson leaves the Echo, with pleasure.

Regina Kriley leaves her shorthand to Charlie Casteel.

Dot Krueger leaves her absence slips to Mr. Elder to use next year. He's saving paper.

Marjorie Lamb leaves her fast talk and her way with the skiers to Dorothy Twiselton.

Floyd Miller leaves his electrical mind to Doris Kline. Shocking, isn't it?

Jerry Moore leaves her speed in typing to anyone who can catch up with it.

Herman Paul leaves his joke-telling to Bob Birkle. Keep 'em Laughing!

Joan Pratt leaves her spirit and familiar smile to everyone who thinks he can have as much success with them as she has had.

Del Puls leaves his way with the gals, his curly hair, and leadership to Jack Grenfell

Rex Randall leaves his height to Jack Orr and his model-A to anyone that wants it, but Jane's going with him.

Junior Ruberg leaves his monkey suit and monkey wrench to next year's head boy. (He'll need them!)

Dean Ruth leaves!

Bill Yeager leaves the drug store and Polly to the boys in '43. But he'll be back after Polly in May.

Jack Hinman leaves his quietness and his swell team-work to Bill Libby.

SENIOR PLAY

The Seniors showed their great dramatic ability when they presented Richard Brinsley Sheridan's comedy, "The Rivals", on May 14. Comedy was furnished by Dwain Hagerman as Bob Acres; Junior Ruberg as Sir Anthony Absolute; and Betty Herrin as Mrs. Malaprop. The rivalry and romance was furnished by Rex Randall as Captain Absolute; Joan Pratt as Lydia Languish; Delbert Puls as Faulkland; Regina Kriley as Julia Melville; Marjorie Lamb as Lucy; and Jim Huber as Sir Lucius O'Trigger. A great deal of the credit for the success of the play goes to Herman Paul who played Fag; John Deitchel, Thomas; Jerry Moore, Maria; and Charlene Emmons as the Chambermaid.

SENIOR RECEPTION

"To Nineteen Moonbeam Terrace, driver," was heard many times on the night of May 22 when the Seniors honored the Juniors with their reception at the "Castle." Upon arriving they were touched by a magic wand and entered into "Starlight Square", where they were given the title "Lord and Lady Stardust". They danced on clouds to the music of a beautiful orchestra and stopped at the "Milky Way" for refreshments. When leaving the "Castle" the couples stopped at the corner at the "Cloud Bank" where the Juniors deposited thanks for the "Heavenly Reception", but withdrew memories not to be soon forgotten.

JUNIORS

JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior Class, sometimes known as the "Mighty Juniors", began school with a class of over fifty. The class has decreased through the years until it now has 35 members. The Juniors chose their attractive class rings at a meeting held on January 23 of this year. They have done much to further the school spirit around I. S. H. S.

JUNIOR PLAY

The Junior Class proudly presented "For Pete's Sake" by Jay Tobias as their class play on Friday evening, November 14, 1941. The play was a comedy farce in three acts and was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. It was directed by Robert L. George.

Members of the cast were Dale Krenzel, Bill Libby, Betty Frakes, Helen Cole, Alouise Starling, Betty Lou Smith, Frances Bishopp, Jack Orr, Bill Haus, Lenora Hagen, Bob Birkle, and James Neal.

Doris Kline was the business manager for this play which brought in nearly one hundred dollars for the Juniors' prom fund.

JUNIOR PROM

An airlined, streamlined banquet and promenade was given Friday, May 15, at the Placer Inn in honor of the Senior Class of 1942 by the Junior Class. A delicious meal at tables beautifully decorated in blue and silver preceded the promenade proper, at which the prom queen was duly crowned "Queen of the Earth and the Air." The Melody Misses of Denver furnished the music for the affair which was pronounced a really outstanding prom.

THE JUNIOR HIGH

THE COOPERATIVE CLASS

7th Grade

The present seventh grade has a membership of forty-one of which eighteen were here to start in the first grade. Both the boys and girls of the class are cooperative and so far have had a good time going to this school.

This is the first seventh grade to take part in the Student Government here at I. S. H. S. and have two representatives to the Student Council. They are doing well.

THE REDSKIN CLASS

8th Grade

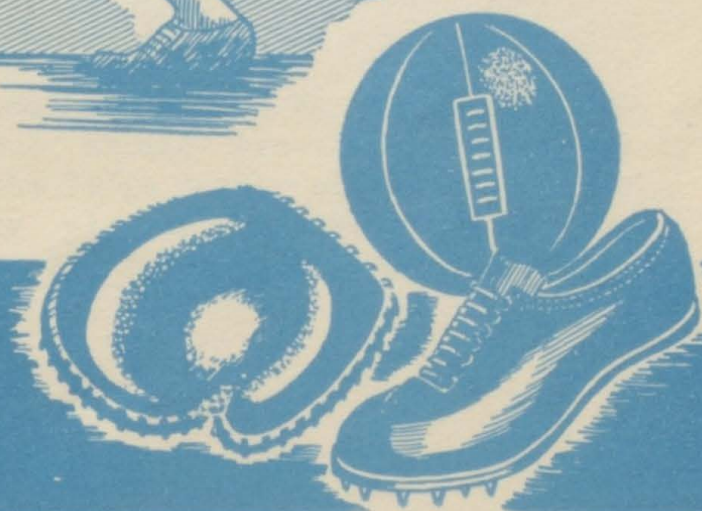

The eighth grade class now consists of thirty-three members. This class has had a considerable decrease in size but hopes to be the best class ever to enter I. S. H. S.

The class is very interested in sports, and has a good basketball team. They fight as hard as any team, and everyone in the eighth grade is proud of them. Not only boys, but girls as well, are interested in sports and both play basketball. The girls took third in the inter-class tournament this year.

The class hopes to be as prosperous as those now in High School, and wants to wish those leaving the best of luck from the eighth grade.

ATHLETICS

Art Marchington, Joseph Hartman, Frank Munchiando, George Fenicle, Jack Hull, Gene Curnow, Gerard Fairchild, Coach--Mr. Hockett, James Fleming, Jack Hinman, Burbank Hartman, Dale Krenznel, Melvin Chiles, Emil Skov, Bill Libby, James Neal, Lester Clark, Howard Clark.

Absent--Ronald Hudson, C. F. Murphy.

This years's team was handicapped by the small number of men out to play but showed excellent spirit and sportsmanship. Due to the large number of Juniors in the squad, who will probably play on next year's team, the pospects for a better, more experienced team are very good.

GOLDDIGGERS BASKETBALL SEASON

This year the Idaho Springs High School basketball team had a very interesting season. Before the league games the team played some practice games, with Nederland as their first opponent. This first game was played on November 4, and the next was with Georgetown. On November 10 the team beat Central City, and the game following this was played with Bear Creek on November 17. Then on the 21 Central came over here to play an exciting and very close match with the Golddiggers.

Something that has never been done before was done when Leadville offered to play us and this was done on November 24. Finally the long awaited first League game came with the Huskies from Castle Rock as opponents. The second League game was then played with Garden Home, and on the following day Leadville came to play a return match with us.

On January 9 the team went to Union High to play the first of two games with them which was followed by a game with Lakewood on January 16. Next followed the eagerly anticipated tilt with Edgewater, and on January 23 the team traveled to Castle Rock to play their return game with the Huskies. Then came the return game with Garden Home on the 30th of January, with Union High on February 6, Lakewood February 13, and on the 20th, the return game with Edgewater.

Next on the schedule was the tournament at Castle Rock, to determine the champions of the League. Idaho's first game was played with the Mustangs from Edgewater on February 26, and on the 27 the team played their second and last game with Union High as their opponents. The Lakewood Tigers won the championship with Edgewater as Runnerup and on the consolation side of the bracket Garden Home came out with high colors.

There is one thing that our team should be congratulated on and that is that they played clean basketball. Next year I. S. H. S. has prospects for a much better season and it is hoped by all that the prospects materialize.

THE INTERCLASS TOURNAMENTS

The first tournament was played by the girls of the 8th, 10th, 11th, and 12th grades. To begin the tournament the Seniors played the Juniors, and the Sophomores the 8th grade. The final game was played the next evening when the Seniors played the Sophomores for the championship. It was a close and exciting game but the Sophomores won by a narrow margin.

The next tournament was played by the boys' teams in I. S. H. S. There were 9 teams competing for the school championship. The first game of this tournament was played between the Defense School and the 4th Freshmen; then the Juniors played the Sophomores, the 1st Freshmen played the 2nd Freshmen and lastly the Seniors played the 3rd Freshmen.

The following evening the quarterfinals were played with the Defense School playing the Juniors, and the 1st Freshmen playing the Seniors. These teams played for championship, while on the consolation side of the bracket, the Sophomores played the 4th Freshmen and the 2nd Freshmen played the 3rd Freshmen.

On Friday evening the finals were played with the Defense School beating the 1st Freshmen in the championship game. The Juniors beat the Seniors for 3rd place, and the Sophomores beat the 3rd Freshmen and won consolation.

This year we also had the Junior-High Tournament played in our gym. I. S. H. S. was proud to have the good team that the Junior-High put out this year. The boys played two hard fought games and won the championship in a game with Georgetown.

ACTIVITIES

PEP CLUB

The Pep Club of I. S. H. S. has strived to keep School Spirit as well as the Spirit of Democracy high in the hearts of the students.

At every home game this year the Pep Club girls and the color-guard have performed a very effective flag raising ceremony.

THE ANNUAL

As a memory of school days gone by, "The 1942 Gold-digger" was published by the Student Council. The annual was completed and distributed early in May.

The annual staff wishes to express its thanks and appreciation to Mr. Melvin Jenkins and the typing classes for their help in making the production of the annual a success. Due credit also goes to Mrs. Grace Maddy for taking the pictures of the students and teachers.

IDAHO ECHO

The Idaho Echo, official school paper of Idaho Springs high school, is now in its seventh year of publication. From a brave attempt at a newspaper, the Atlasta Paper of 1935, has emerged the Idaho Echo of 1942, judged by the College of Journalism at the University of Colorado as All-Coloradan, the highest distinction to be given a high school newspaper.

This year the staff sent eight delegates and the sponsor to the Twentieth Annual High School Newspaper Conference at Boulder, Colorado, in November. These delegates had charge of a round table discussion on mimeographed newspapers and Miss Dorothy Carlson, sponsor, was elected vice-president of the Colorado Council of Teachers of Journalism at the sponsors meeting.

THE DRAMATICS CLUB

The Idaho Springs High School Dramatics Club, founded by Mr. George, in the fall of 1941 has a membership list of the following people: Dwain Hagerman, Willa Ruth Taylor, Junior Ruberg, Betty Lou Smith, Gerard Fairchild, Doris Florine, John Deitchel, Rubey Whyte, and Don Frederick.

Meetings of this club are held every other Sunday at the home of a member. Refreshments are served and a business meeting is held.

The group has presented a number of plays for the year 1941-1942, beginning with a few scenes from the "Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde.

In March they presented three one-act plays which included "Box & Cox" by John Morton. The cast was, Box, Dwain Hagerman; Cox, Junior Ruberg; Mrs. Bounder, Willa Taylor.

The second play was "Little Father of the Wilderness," by Austin Strong and Lloyd Osborne. The cast was Pere Marlotte, Gerard Fairchild; Frere Gregoire, Dale Krenzel; Captain Chevillion, Junior Ruberg; Mlle. Henriette, Doris Florine; Louis XV, Don Frederick; Chevalier De Fontenac, John Deitchel; Duke De St. Albert, Bob Birkle.

The third play was "The Silver Queen," by Robert L. George and directed by Willa Taylor. The cast included Tom, the hotel clerk, Don Frederick; Benny, the bellboy, Frank Nerim; Mike, an old miner, Dale Krenzel; Jim and Bill, young miners, Bob Birkle and John Deitchel; Mr. Marlowe, a mine promoter, Gerard Fairchild; and Mrs. Marlowe, his wife, Betty Smith.

The group presented a short skit for the rhythm show and a play from the Classics in which performance the entire group took part. This last play was given as a dividend and the audience was asked to buy defense stamps as admission.

DEFENDING AMERICA

To the young men of our community now serving with the armed forces of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
we respectfully dedicate this page.

On land, in the air, and on the sea, all to victory are thousands of America's young men, and several of whom have gone to our Idaho Springs elementary and high school.

On the Land? Yes, over a year ago when the country was getting prepared for national defense, many enthusiastic Idaho Springs boys signed right up and offered their help to Uncle Sam. Then after war was declared there were not only many drafted but many more who volunteered.

In the Air? a few from here have joined the air corps and they are to be deeply admired for offering a service so necessary, yet, so dangerous.

On the shores of Tripoli are many handsome Idaho Springs boys who were ready, willing and able to pass the difficult tests of the United States Marines.

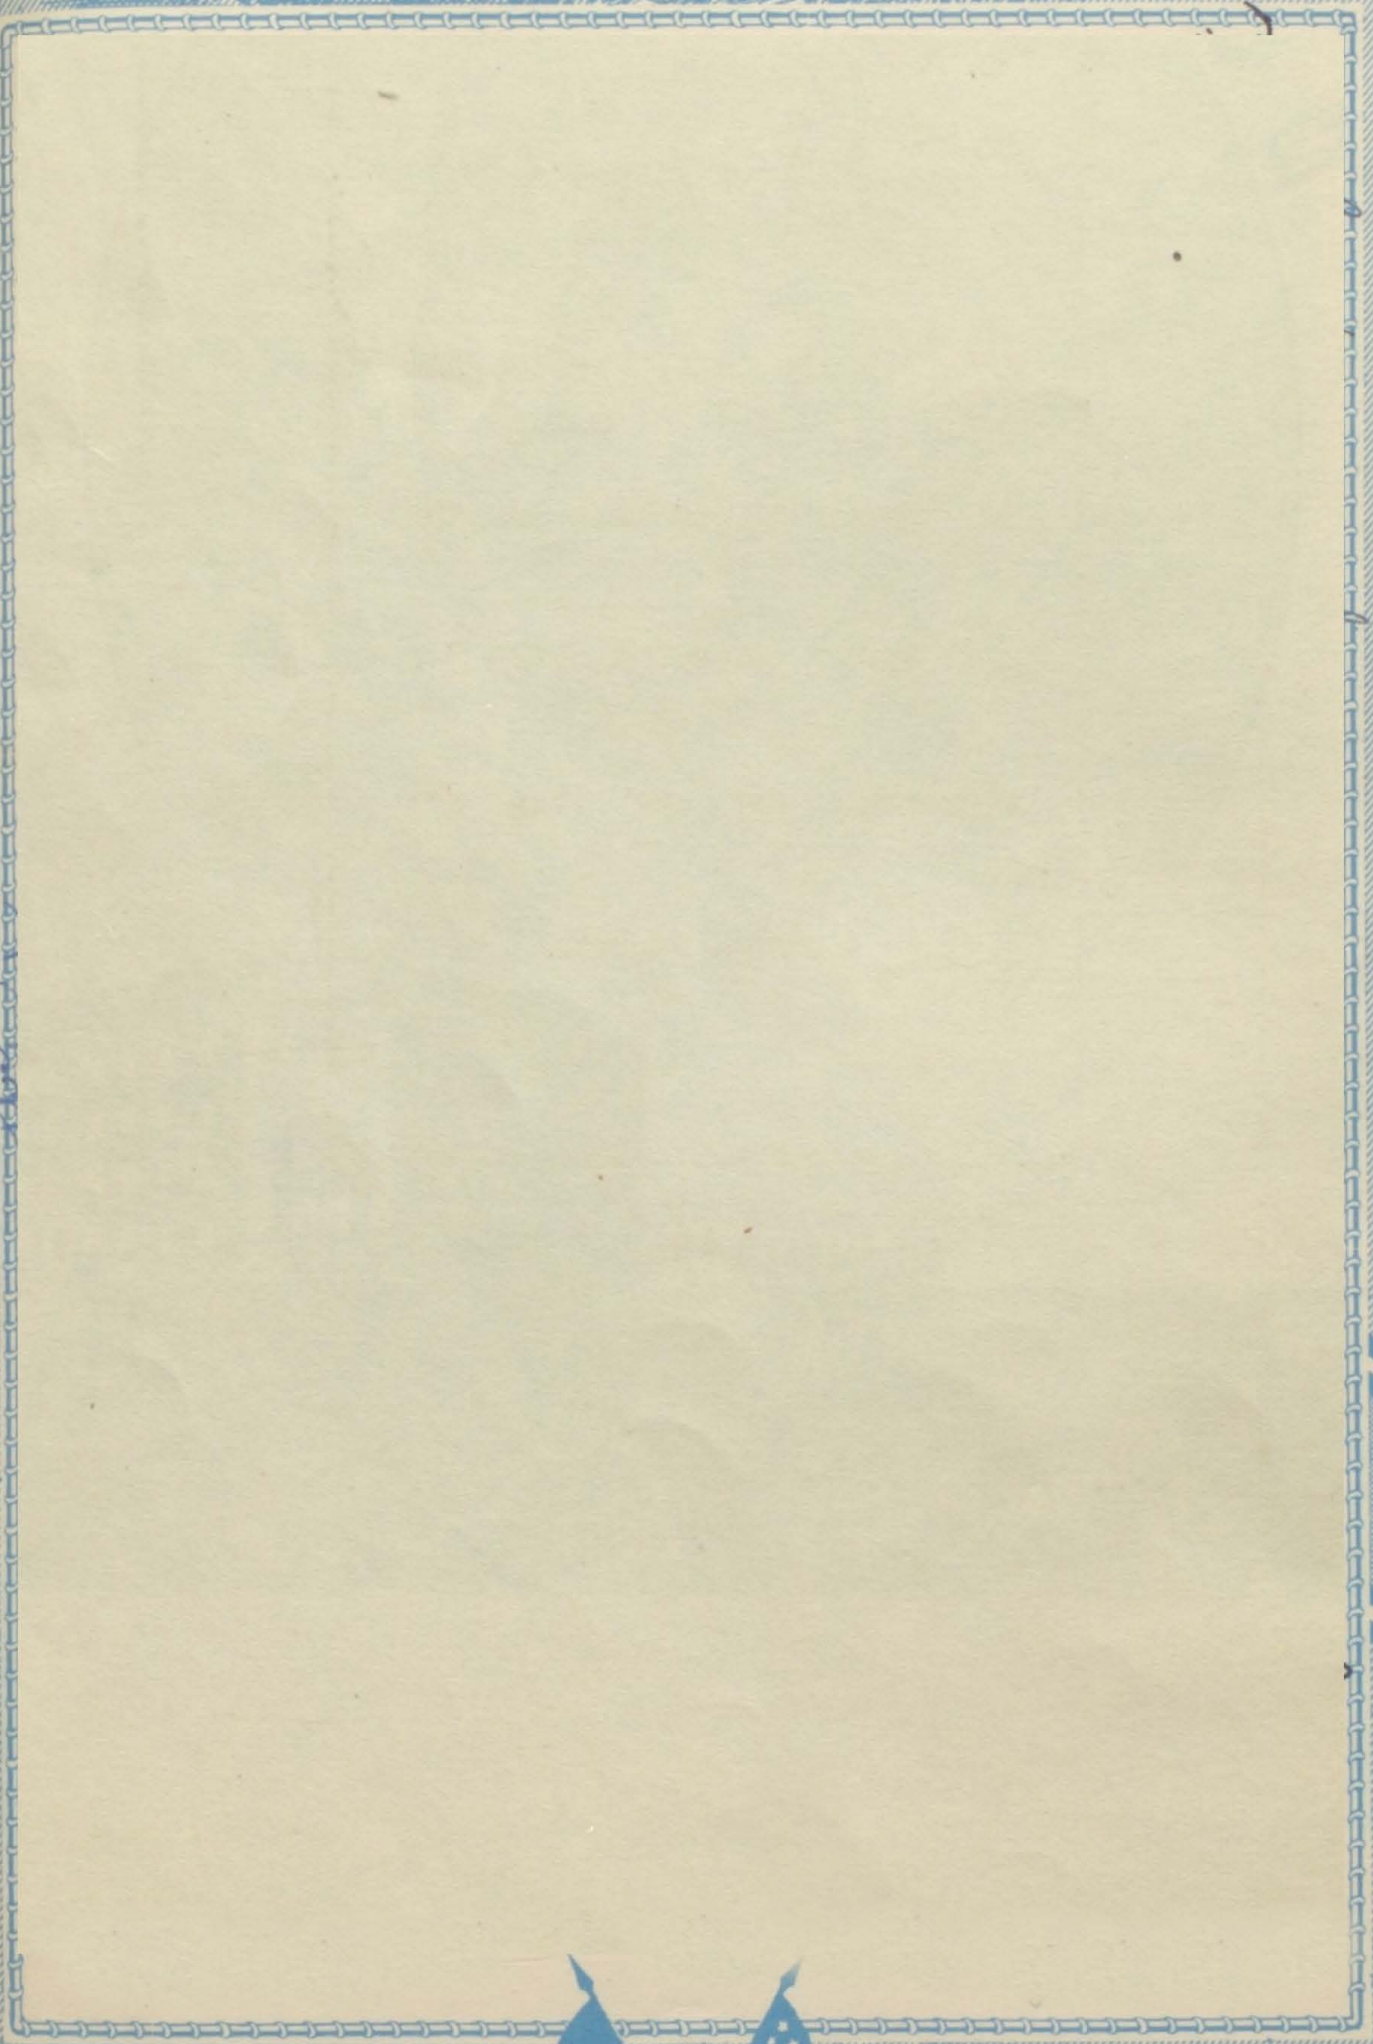

And on the Sea have been many of our boys for as long as three or four years. Many who have been right "Over There" where fighting first started, many who have been driven from their ships and swam to shore and too many of whom the government has written home as wounded, dead, captured, or "just missing".

All of our boys are working hard thinking only of us and all of us are doing everything to win the war and are thinking only of them. But we're all striving for one great word that must stand for the same thing as the United States. That word is "Victory".
