Golddigger

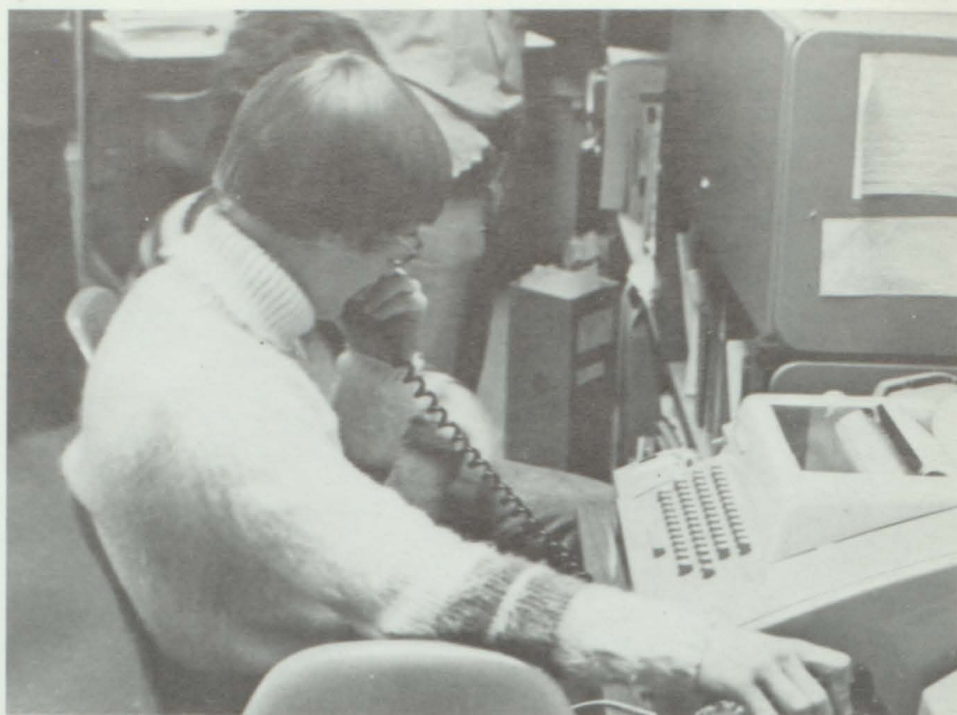

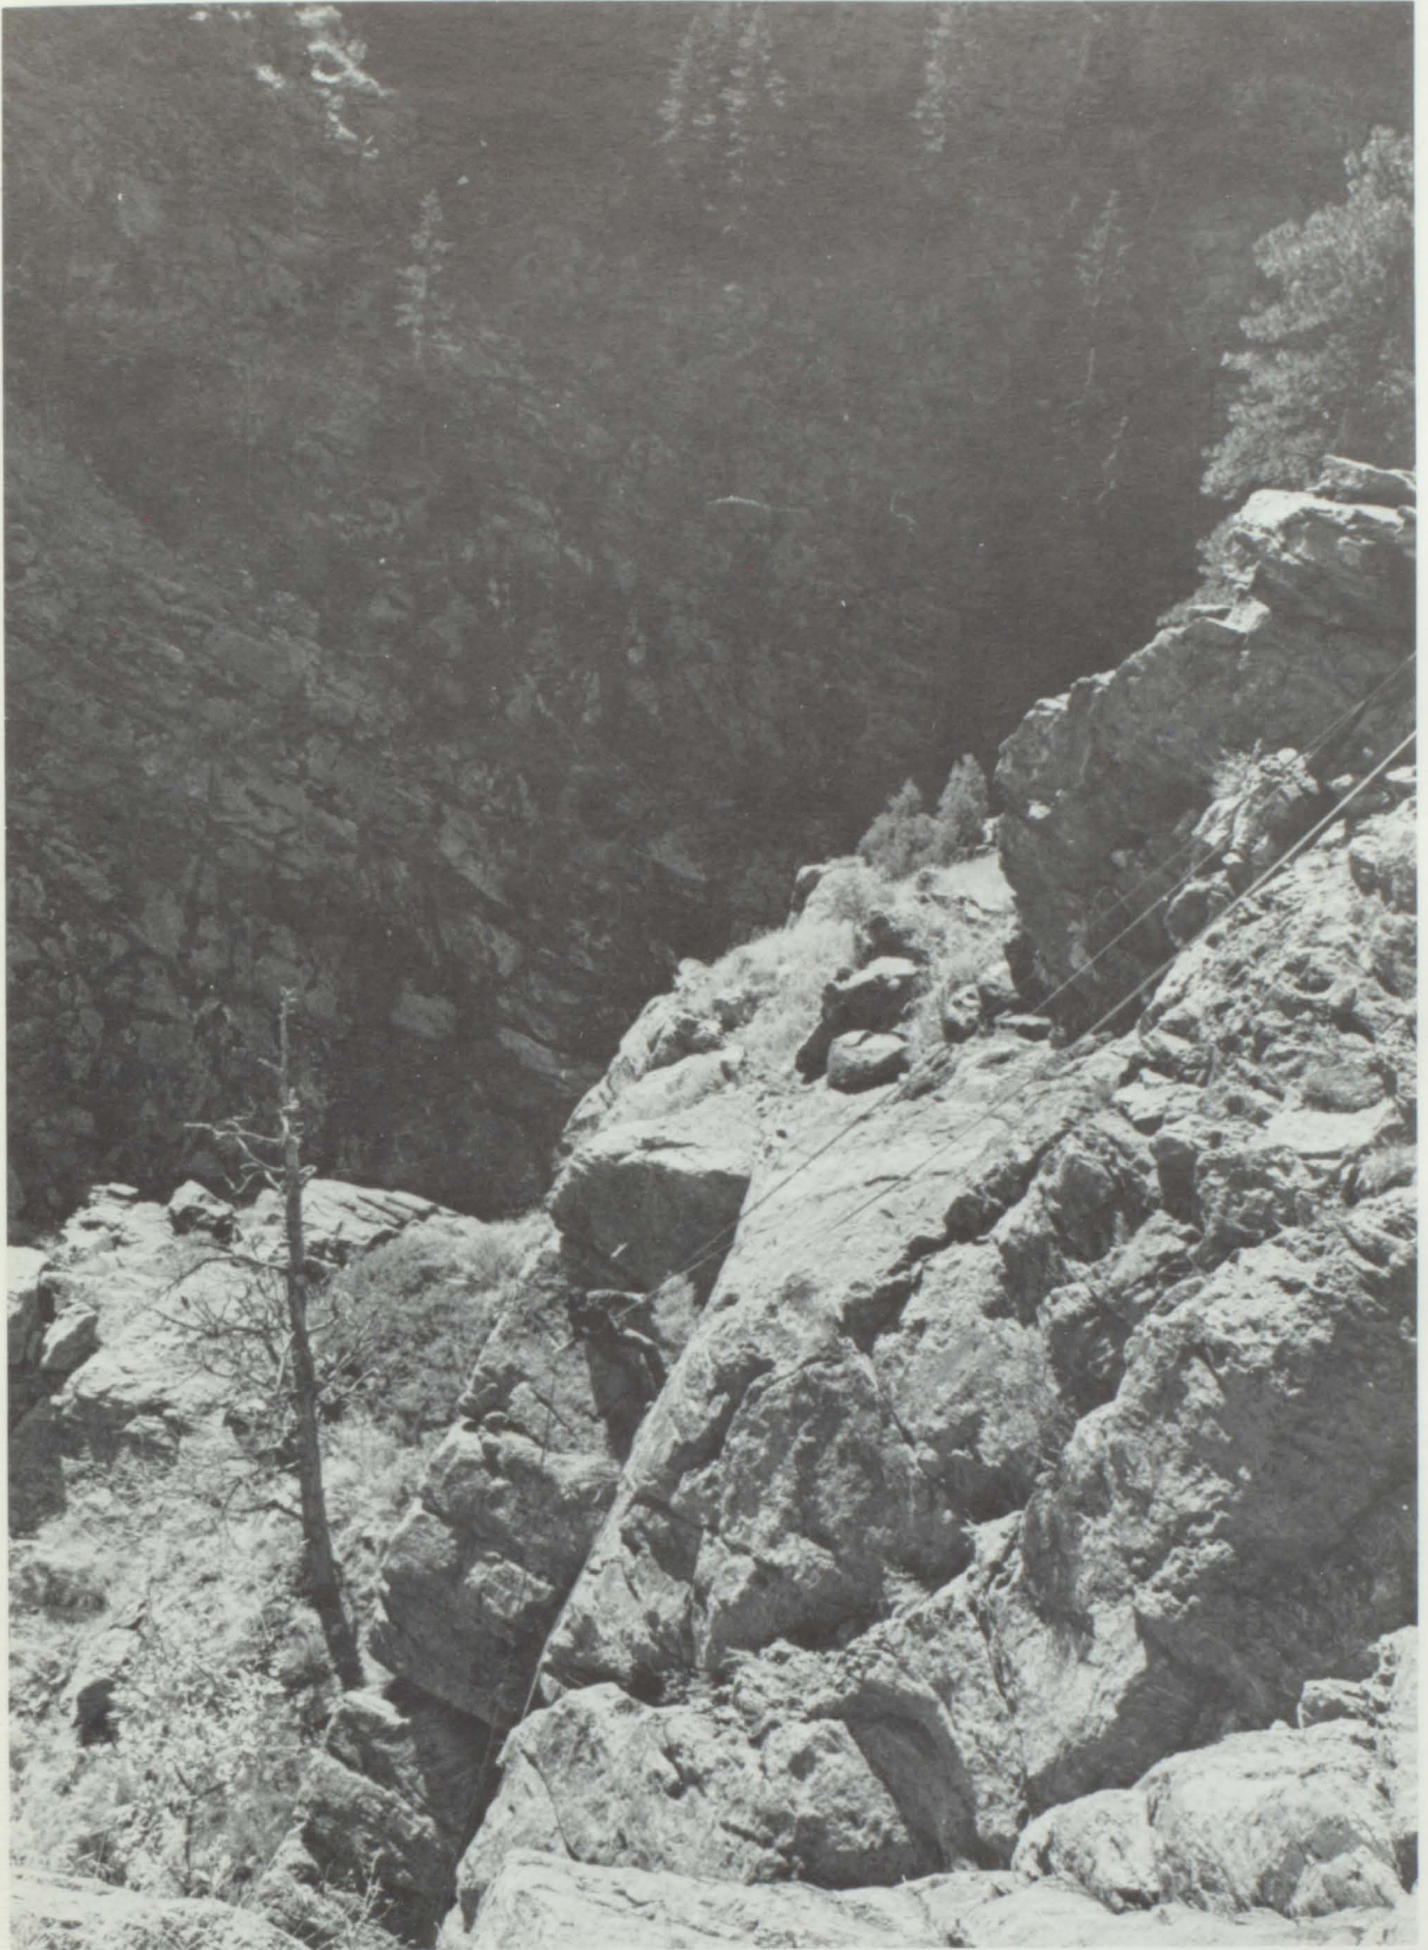

1976

Idaho Springs, Colorado

In an area such as ours there are endless opportunities.
Look and be aware of some aspects of our environment.

Some we have more to do with than others, some we have less to do with than others.

Whatever is around us is part of us and we should be part of it.

One year has passed and a beginning towards a total union with the environment has started.

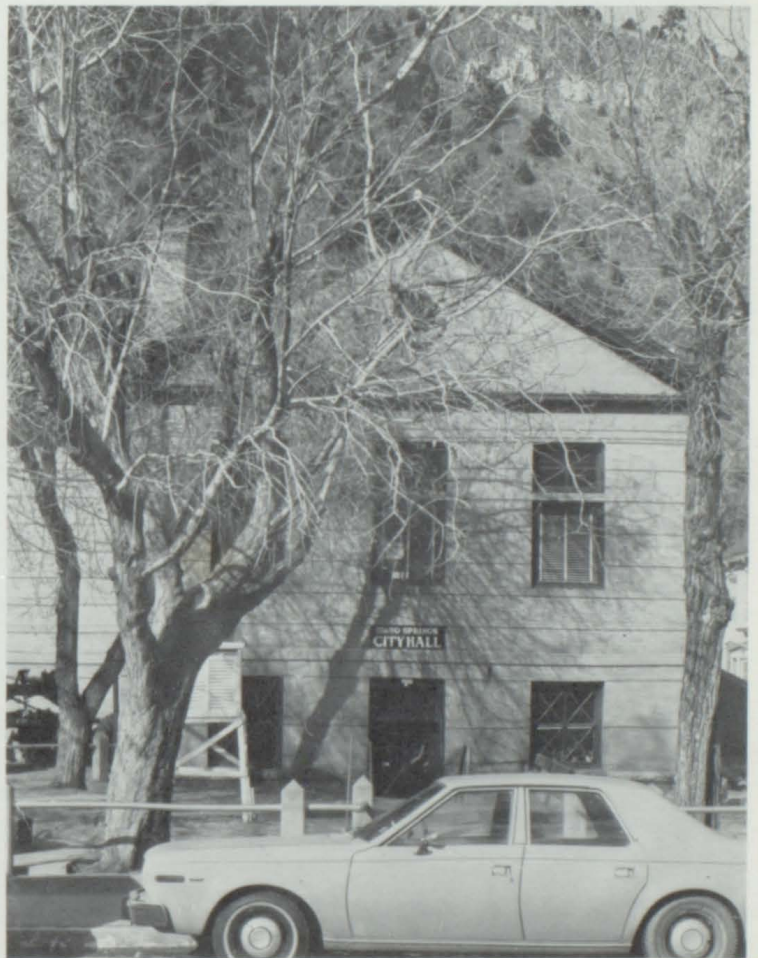

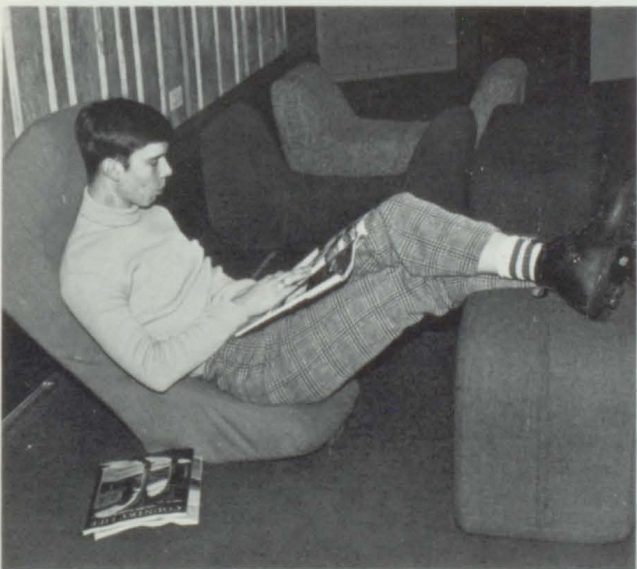

In years to come the beginning will grow and grow until it becomes a middle.

The middle will grow and grow but never grow into an end. Therefore we will never be in total harmony with our environment.

But at times only so close that satisfaction will fill us to the brim.

That will be good enough.

Will And Favorite Sayings

DEBBIE ALLEN: Mark 10 Ignition.

To Mr. Cass I leave a case of doublemint gum, and to Charlie Klein I leave my ability to save money (with hopes that he'll quit embezzling.)

KATHLEEN BASTIAN: That's a good question.

I leave our locker to the juniors in hopes that they will not play dominoes with it.

CRYSTAL BRANDT: Ya wanna walk.

I leave my careless driving ability and chauffering to Paul Gochis.

RANDY BURR: Let's go get drunk.

I leave my car to anybody that can fix it.

JEROLD JOHN COLE: I can't stand this show.

I wish the best of luck to anyone who tries to get into a good school after graduation since they went to "Clear Creek."

HARLAN CRISWELL: Let's go ridin'!

I leave all my troubles to Fred.

STEVE DAVIS: Ask Jim Trenberth what my favorite saying is.

I leave the happy memories of the debate season to Laszlo Gombas (Rhombus).

LISKA ENYEART: I don't want to do that.

I leave Kendra Michaelis a bathtub full of wet clothes.

TAMI FISHER: You turkey.

I leave Mr. Klein.

ROBERT GARSER: Hey!

I leave the good luck of the school. You will need it.

RICHARD GARRETT: That's a cats meow!

To Mike Shain I leave my parking space in the Teachers' Parking lot.

KAREN GRENFELL: I ain't some.

To Dawn Anderson I leave one pom pom with thoughts of what she can do with it, and the other pom pom along with a 50 page manual on how to shake it.

CONNIE HAMILTON: I think I'll go home.

I leave my tax forms to Mr. Klieforth.

KAREN HAGERMAN: What the hell!

I leave the greasepaint and tap shoes and wig to Cherry Freiwald.

DENISE HARTMAN: Hi, Sweets.

I leave my boy craziness at ski meets to the mogul mice, and my ability to act half way sober in the motel rooms to Dawn Pulver.

MAX HARTMAN: Let's doer.

Nothing.

MIKE HERLEIN: Gremlin Power!

I leave all the destruction of the school to my little brother and Darrick Vincent.

LINDA HOOPER: You turkey!

I leave Mr. Klieforth to any senior next year who can pass his Taxes and Insurance Class. Good luck! I also leave Mrs. Klusman to any classmen that wants an easy teacher and an assistant. Grade A.

CONNIE JANES: Oh you know!

I leave my revolving system of excuses for absences, tardies, and cuts to Kenny Gochis.

GRETA LANTZ: Oh ya!

I leave all my knowledge, which is nothing to the school board.

TERI LEWIS: You toilet tongue!

I will to Rock Hodgson, Phillis' lobster without the pincers.

MIKE McLEAN: Let's do a B.

I leave my hockey abilities and all my stash to Randy Horner.

MARGARET McLENDON: Hope I can graduate.

I leave Mr. Klieforth to all the Seniors next year who can pass taxes and insurance. Good luck!

STAN MANUEL: Oh no, we're gonna wreck.

I leave all my wrestling abilities to Randy Horner . . .

GERI MAPPIN: What should my excuse be?

I leave the thrills, chills, and terrors of the flatbed to anyone crazy enough to ride with Paul, since he's inherited Crystal's driving skills anyway.

TERESA MEYLOE:

To Julie Pretz I leave my left handed shorthand abilities and my flying abilities to anyone who doesn't quack up.

KELLY NORTON: Wait for me you guys.

I leave to my husband (Kyle Moore) my locker and springyness to Kurt and Tom.

VIRDIE ORR: I'm hungry, let's go eat.

I leave the third floor heater to any senior who can furnish their own blanket and heater . . .

GERI OSBORNE: It's not that I leave anything, it's just that I leave.

NANCY PALMER: What a drag.

I leave my driver's license to Sari Thurlow. Use it in good health, and we are still friends.

JANE PHILLIPS: Oh wow! What a babe! I think I'm in love!

To doodle bug I leave one undependable green Datsun Pick-up truck!

SHARON PYFER: Don't ask questions.

I leave locker No. 18 to any senior who can keep it in as big a mess as we did.

PATTI ROBESON: What Bosco!!!

I leave all the good lookin guys at Loveland to Julie Pretz. Good luck Julie.

DEBRA ROGERS: I'm gonna go see my sweetheart.

I leave the problems of the Sr. locker area to Mr. Sams and the class of '77.

SUSAN ROGERS: I think I'm gonna die.

To my son Randy Newberry, I leave my spot on the Pom-Pom squad and all six pom-poms and uniforms and, to Julie Cullar and her boyfriend, I leave any privacy they can find.

JERRI SANDER: Get down!!!

To Mr. Dallas I leave one punctured raft.

KEVIN WRIGHT: Come on.

I leave my ability of never coming to school to Jeff Powers.

ROSALIE YOST: "You guys! Have you seen Mike?"

I leave a comb with chain attachment to Robin Delapeter, and to Jeff, Mike, and Paul I leave our senior locker No. 20; broken wheels and picture included.

ROGER WILTZ: Hi ya'!!!

I leave the juniors my good grades

VANESSA VANCE: Come on guys let's go.

I leave my ability to battle with Rucker to any senior who thinks they're capable of handling him.

KARRIE TARRANT: What bosgo!

I leave to the junior girls the privilege of reading Playgirl, and to David Leach who is gone, my senior locker.

JOHN WINBURN: You got a car?

I leave my corner in the Derby to Dan Quine and Doug Michaelis.

KRISTI STACKHOUSE: Is there a student council meeting today?

I leave my job as Football Manager to any girl brave, tough, and strong enough to handle it! Good luck!

STACY STEEN: Let's check this out.

I leave all my skirts and dresses to anyone wanting an "A" in Dallas' English class.

ROBERT TAYLOR: Huh?

I leave Warren Tech to anyone who wants to get out of CCHS.

JIM TRENBERTH: Boy is the skiing good.

I leave three sets of tools somewhere in the theater.

TERRY WHITE: Hi Dummy.

I leave the food locker full of food in hopes Dawn Pulver may not starve before lunch time.

CASEY QUINN: Break out a Brewbiss.

To Donny Maguridde's I leave all the empty chaw cans and broken chairs of the third floor area.

BILL GRENFELL: Let's get roudy.

To Randy Horner, I leave locker No. 12 and the responsibility of raising hell on the third floor every day.
